CORPORATE PROFILE

Founded in 1886 as the 17th company registered in Hong Kong and one of the 30 constituent stocks in the original Hang Seng Index from the 1960's, The Wharf (Holdings) Limited ("Wharf", Stock Code: 0004) is backed by a long standing mission of "Building for Tomorrow" with a proven track record in management and execution.

The Group's businesses currently comprise Investment Properties, Hotels and Development Properties in Hong Kong and Mainland China. Other businesses include Logistics Infrastructure through Modern Terminals and Hong Kong Air Cargo Terminals.

In Hong Kong, the Group's exclusive Peak Portfolio, comprising a rare collection of unique properties, continues to feature the highest bespoke quality and craftsmanship catering to the demands of a privileged and discerning clientele. As at the end of 2022, the Group's attributable land bank was 2.8 million square feet, of which nearly 600,000 square feet on The Peak. Project pipeline includes 1 Plantation Road, Kowloon Tong site, Kai Tak site (30%-owned) and Kowloon Godown Redevelopment.

The Group's proactive efforts in Mainland China Investment Properties, started from a small nascent base some 20 years ago, is beginning to bear fruit, to realise plans to generate a proper return over the next 20 to 30 years remaining on the majority of the underlying land leases. They are led by the International Finance Squares ("IFS") at the very heart of CBD or new CBD in select cities. Through years of expansion, IFS developments in Chengdu and Changsha have become trendsetting landmarks with unrivalled location, superior planning and design, retailer and shopper critical mass and top-notch management.

The Mainland China Development Properties land bank at the end of 2022 was 1.7 million square metres. The Group is selective in new land acquisition as strict regulatory policies have curtailed returns and increased investment risk.

Wharf Hotels manages 16 hotels, with over 5,000 rooms and suites, in Mainland China, Hong Kong and the Philippines. Five hotels operate under the award-winning luxury Niccolo brand, with the other 11 hotels under the business travel brand Marco Polo Hotels. The Group owns three of these hotels and a fourth through a 50/50 joint venture.

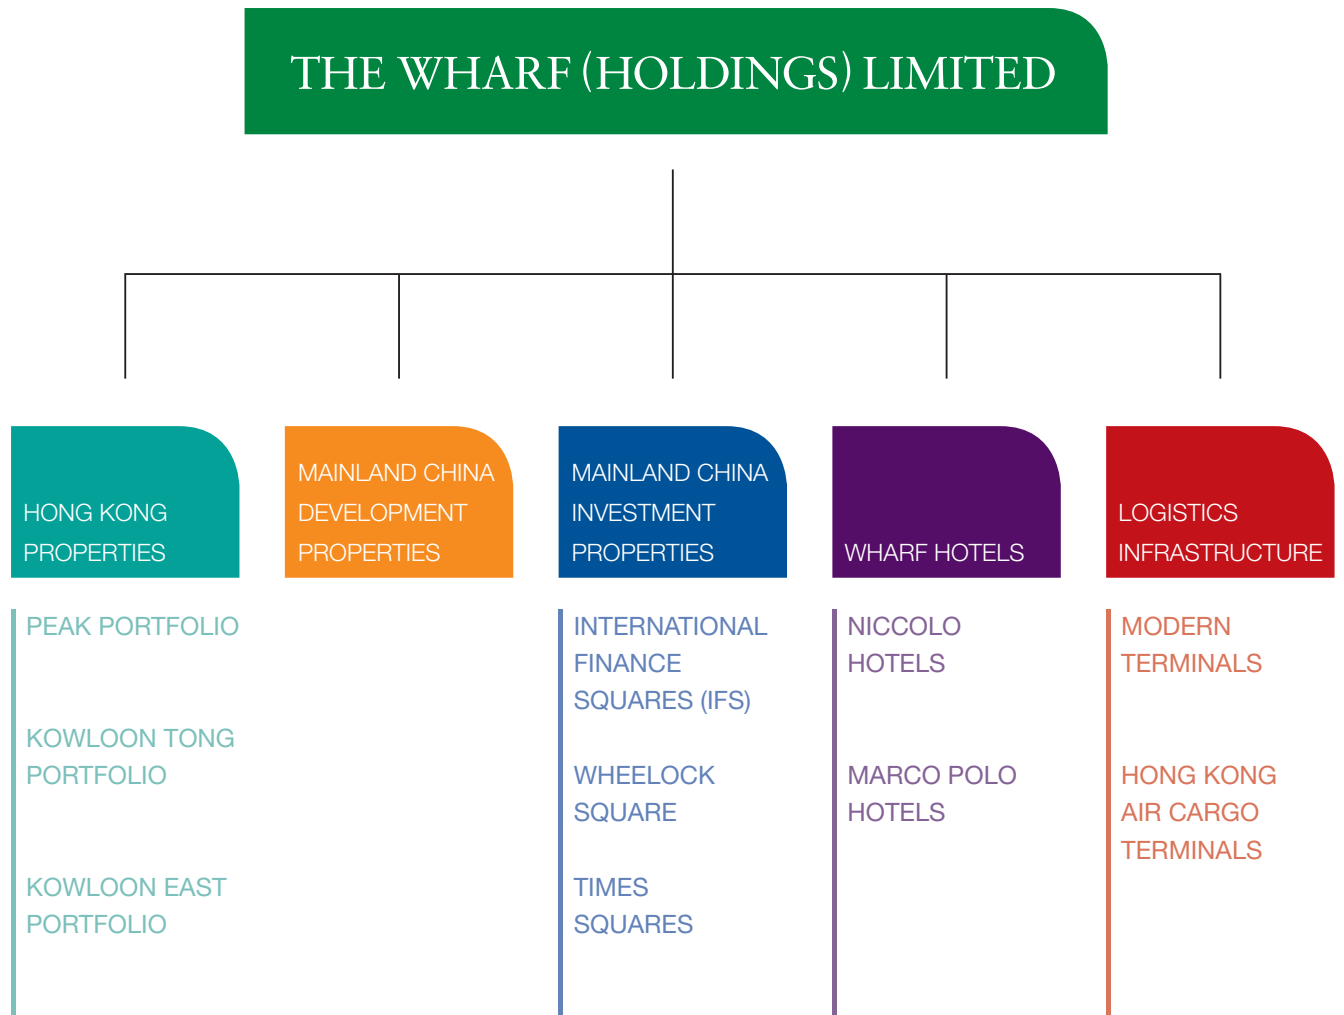

The Group also owns and operates Modern Terminals, a major operator of container terminals in Hong Kong and Shenzhen, and is a founding partner in Hong Kong Air Cargo Terminals. Both have been key components for Hong Kong's success as an international trade and transportation hub for decades.

"Building for Tomorrow" also extends to Wharf's "Business-in-Community" ("BIC") commitment. Flagship school improvement programme "Project WeCan" grows from strength to strength along with a series of BIC initiatives, with an aim of helping different segments of society in Hong Kong and the Mainland.

The Group has also been devoting effort to embrace sustainable practices in our businesses for building a more sustainable future. To support carbon neutrality, it is integrating green efforts and has developed long term targets to reduce carbon emissions, electricity intensity, water consumption and waste by 2030.

In 2022, the Group was recognised with a host of awards for its business achievements and contributions to the community. The Group is ranked the Second Top Donor by The Community Chest for the second consecutive year. It remains as a constituent member of Hang Seng Corporate Sustainability Index Series with ESG rating upgraded to AA+, accredited with Hong Kong Quality Assurance Agency's CSR Index Plus Mark, and attained the "10 Years Plus Caring Company Logo" from The Hong Kong Council of Social Service.

CHAIRMAN'S STATEMENT

2022 started off with an acute resurgence of COVID-19, leading to strict social distancing measures and partial lockdowns in Hong Kong and Mainland China, even as some major economies began to return to normal. Following the so-called 5th Wave in Hong Kong in the first quarter, the city of Shanghai was completely shut down for two months in the second quarter. Both cities took a direct hit immediately and are today still hurting from the serious fallout. In the case of Shanghai, collateral damage also cascaded through to other parts of the country.

Prolonged pandemic situation, coupled with the mounting macroeconomic challenges and property market turmoil in Mainland China, shook the national economy. As a result, the Group's rental revenue reported the first decline in recent years, while Development Properties ("DP") recorded much lower sales volume and recognition.

A watershed moment occurred at the end of the year when the Central Government ended its "zero-COVID" policy. 2023 is expected to be a year of readjustment following the upheaval in 2022.

GENERAL ECONOMY

Global economic recovery has been hindered by different issues in the two largest economies. The US has been raising interest rates aggressively since 2022 to combat raging inflation in a robust economy, while China has experienced slower economic growth due to the pandemic. Additionally, the war in Ukraine and energy crisis are having a major negative impact on global economies and supply chains.

In Mainland China, the highly leveraged developers caused anxiety among homebuyers, resulting in a substantial reduction in transaction volume and weaker prices. Delay in project completion also sparked a mass mortgage boycott. The government has stepped up support to stabilise the sector and address debt issue, but correction would take time. Furthermore, cautious sentiment weighed on the commercial sector amid the turbulent times, while lockdowns and restriction measures adversely impacted the hospitality sector.

In Hong Kong, the stock market hit its lowest level in over a decade and home price also dropped to a record low in recent years due to the escalation of prime rate after multiple rounds of Federal Reserve rate hikes. The logistics segment was notably affected by weakened global demand and border control, leading to disruptions in cross-border trucking and impaired gate volume.

BUSINESS PERFORMANCE

Hong Kong Properties experienced a quiet year in both sales and recognition.

For the Mainland DP segment, illiquidity in the market and lockdown measures weakened buyer sentiment and dented sales significantly. With both volume and price under pressure, a large impairment provision became necessary for the Group's unsold stock.

The flagship International Finance Squares ("IFS") contributed to years of growth in Mainland Investment Properties ("IP") revenue. However, the first reversal was reported in 2022 as massive lockdown in various cities inevitably inflicted heavy damage. Competition also intensified in the over-supply markets.

Modern Terminals celebrated its 50th anniversary of operations in 2022 and handled over 140 million TEUs in Hong Kong in those five decades. 2022 was another challenging year in this journey. Hong Kong witnessed a decrease in throughput starting around mid-year under deteriorating external environment and cross-border restrictions.

FINANCIAL RESULTS

Group revenue decreased by 19% to HK$18,064 million, due to much lower DP recognitions in Hong Kong and Mainland China, as well as reversal in Mainland IP revenue growth. Logistics and investments segments also lost steam under macro uncertainties. The weak market led to DP impairment provisions and IP revaluation deficit (both non-cash and unrealised), resulting in a loss attributable to shareholders of HK$1,705 million. Loss per share was HK$0.56. Excluding the IP revaluation deficit, underlying net profit for the year was HK$303 million.

Total assets amounted to HK$221.7 billion. Book net asset value was HK$151.6 billion (or HK$49.60 per share). The Group decreased net debt by 60% to HK$5.3 billion and lowered gearing to 3.4%.

In lieu of a final dividend, a second interim dividend of HK$0.20 (2021: HK$0.20) per share has been declared, bringing the total dividend for the year to HK$0.40 (2021: HK$0.40) per share.

BUSINESS-IN-COMMUNITY

Upholding the mission of “Building for Tomorrow”, the Group spares no effort in sustainability and supporting those in need in the society.

Since the 5th Wave of COVID-19 hit Hong Kong in early 2022, the Group has made a donation of HK$7.5 million to The Community Chest via “Wharf Emergency Relief Fund”, in order to help individuals and families in financial hardship. An additional HK$5 million was donated to Project WeCan’s “WeCan-CARE! A Pandemic Relief Fund” to provide instant relief to students and families to overcome the difficult time. The Group is honoured to be named the Second Top Donor by The Community Chest for the second consecutive year.

To support the community in action, the Group initiated “Business-in-Community” in 2011 to directly reach out and foster the development of young generation. The Group launched three flagship programmes namely “Project WeCan”, “The Wharf Hong Kong Secondary School Art Competition” and “Architectural Design Internship Programme”. Project WeCan has been expanded to the community, with over 70 partners from different sectors joining to support over 87,000 students of 82 schools. Programmes including Job Tasting and Career Exploration Day are held to inspire students to pursue higher studies and fulfilling careers.

In Mainland China, the Group has been sponsoring Wu Zhi Qiao (Bridge to China) Charitable Foundation since 2011 to improve lives of underprivileged villagers in remote areas. To date, over 100 students from Project WeCan joined as volunteers to build footbridges and community facilities, benefitting over 15,000 villagers in Chongqing, Gansu, Guizhou and Yunnan.

The Group has also been devoting effort to embedding sustainable practices in our businesses for building a more sustainable future. Chengdu IFS and Changsha IFS achieved LEED Platinum certification through green loans raised in 2019 and 2020. Modern Terminals installed around 300 solar panels on the rooftop of warehouse building, reducing over 50,000 kg of carbon emission per annum. To support carbon neutrality, the Group is integrating green efforts and has developed 2030 long term targets to reduce carbon emissions, electricity intensity, water and waste.

The Group remains a member of Hang Seng Corporate Sustainability Index Series with ESG rating upgraded to AA+ in 2022. The Group and Modern Terminals are awarded the “10 Year Plus Caring Company Logo” and “15 Year Plus Caring Company Logo” respectively as a recognition of our commitment and achievement in corporate social responsibility.

OUTLOOK

The world is on the brink of global recession in 2023 as countries have been raising interest rates to tame inflation. Adverse market condition and escalating geopolitical tension are exerting a substantial drag on business outlook, with a slowdown in the global economy likely to have a spillover effect across business activities in Mainland China and Hong Kong.

In Mainland China, the exit of “zero-COVID” policy should orderly restore production activities and supply chain flow, thereby supporting economic recovery. Resumption of daily life will also gradually restore consumer confidence and shopping sentiment. However, the aftermath of crackdown on highly leveraged property developers has cast a shadow over the DP market outlook in the near term and the ongoing structural reform will take time.

Whereas in Hong Kong, peaking rates, improving labour market, border reopening with Mainland China and the newly launched Top Talent Pass Scheme will provide support to market sentiment. Yet, macro uncertainties likely persist to affect economic recovery pace.

Hotel operations should benefit from the alleviation of travel restrictions and pent-up travelling demand in the Mainland. A respectable rebound on domestic travel was observed during Chinese New Year. International travel is also set to gradually improve but manpower and flight capacity are the key challenges.

For logistics sector, the trade activity is facing pressure under volatile external environment coupled with regional competition and trade tension. 2023 will continue to be full of challenges.

VOTE OF THANKS

On behalf of all shareholders and the Board, I would like to express our sincerest appreciation to all customers and business partners for their continuous support, and also to all staff for their contributions and concerted effort throughout the year in coping with the unparalleled difficulties during the pandemic.

BUSINESS REVIEW

MAINLAND CHINA INVESTMENT PROPERTIES

National retail sales was stagnant in 2022 due to lockdown measures that crippled local economy and slowed consumer spending. Sentiment towards discretionary spending was especially weak in December when infection spread after lifting of lockdown measures. Additionally, office leasing demand was also hindered by the moderating economy and volatile business environment, leading to soft rental and occupancy in an already over-supplied market.

Consequently, the Group's Mainland China Investment Properties portfolio experienced its first reversal in revenue in recent years, with a more severe impact in the second half of the year. Revenue decreased by 11% to HK$4,798 million and operating profit by 9% to HK$3,226 million.

Hang Seng Corporate
Sustainability Index

CORPORATE SUSTAINABILITY

The Group has been driven by its long-standing mission of “Building for Tomorrow” to enhance the sustainability of business practices. Through engaging with our stakeholders and valuing our team members’ efforts, we collaborate in reducing negative impacts arising from our operations on the environment and society, as expressed in our vision and mission of sustainability. The Group is proud to have been a constituent member of the Hang Seng Corporate Sustainability Index Series since 2014.

Besides an overview of the Group’s major sustainability accomplishments during the reporting year in this section, we develop our operational strategies in line with the Sustainable Development Goals (“SDGs”) established by the United Nations. For details, please refer to the Group’s standalone Sustainability Report 2022 on www.wharfholdings.com, which has been prepared in accordance with the requirements of Environmental, Social and Governance Reporting Guide (Appendix 27) issued by The Stock Exchange of Hong Kong Limited (“HKEX ESG Reporting Guide”), the latest GRI Standards 2021 (“GRI Standards”) and the GRI G4 Construction and Real Estate Sector (“CRE”) Disclosures. The Report also refers to selected metrics of the Sustainability Accounting Standards Board (“SASB”) real estate industry-specific sustainability accounting standards and the Recommendations of the Task Force on Climate-related Financial Disclosures (“TCFD”).

SUSTAINABILITY GOVERNANCE

The Group has built a clear sustainability governance structure to monitor and manage the environmental, social, and governance (“ESG”) issues in our operations. Our Sustainability Steering Committee (SSC), headed by the Chairman of the Group, convenes twice a year to develop and improve sustainability strategies. To monitor ESG performance and practices of various business units (“BUs”), the Group has placed the responsibility on the Divisional Sustainability Committee, which is assisted by the Cross-BU Sustainability Group. Each BU is responsible for identifying and evaluating ESG risks and opportunities within its operation and implementing appropriate management approach to mitigate the risks. The SCC regularly reviews ESG performance reported by BUs.

The Group is zero-tolerant to bribery and corruption, and advocates for the highest standards of business conduct. To ensure our ethical standards are well understood throughout our workforce, the Compliance Policy Statement, Anti-corruption Policy, Statement of Business Integrity and Code of Conduct are established according to the relevant laws and regulations. The Group also provides anti-corruption training for our employees to reinforce their awareness. The Whistleblowing Policy and Procedures outline the processes for employees and business partners to report misconduct and malpractice. For more details on our governance structure, and risk management and internal control systems, please refer to pages 46 to 69.

CLIMATE RESILIENCE

The Group continues to assess the strategy for sustainable operation and climate resilience considering the increase in climate risks and an ever-changing sustainability regulatory landscape. The Group has identified relevant climate risks and respective mitigation measures across the Group according to the recommendations of TCFD. The Climate Change Policy Statement which guides all BUs to respond to climate change, is reviewed and updated regularly. The assessment of climate risks and opportunities will be further conducted to continuously refine our climate resilience and mitigation strategies as more information and tools are available.

PROTECTING OUR ENVIRONMENT

The Group continues to operate in compliance with local legislations, while implementing its Environmental Policy to manage and reduce adverse environmental impacts. The Group was not aware of any environmental non-compliance that resulted in penalties or fines in 2022.

The Group has organised several programmes at our properties to enhance public and employees' environmental awareness in resource conservation and waste reduction. In March 2022, we joined the "Earth Hour" to enhance awareness on energy saving. At our hotel operations, waste sorting practices were introduced to assist employees to effectively classify waste for reduction. Our Investment Properties also places waste recycling facilities at offices to encourage employees to recycle.

The Group aims at encouraging environmental stewardship in the long term, with the implementation of the Environmental Targets by 2030. The Group has implemented multiple initiatives to enhance the performance of greenhouse gas emission reduction and sustainable building, including green office initiatives and solar energy utilisation in our properties. We also actively pursue credible recognitions of our environmental practices. Shanghai Wheelock Square achieved LEED Platinum certification in 2022, while Shanghai Times Square achieved ISO 50001 to demonstrate its effective energy management. For more details on our initiatives, please refer to our standalone Sustainability Report 2022.

SUSTAINABLE FINANCE

The Group strives to combine green efforts to develop a roadmap to support global, national, and local agenda of low-carbon transition, and sustainable financing is essential for the ambition. In recent years, the Group raised green loans relating to improving the environmental performance of Chengdu IFS and Changsha IFS. In addition, we raised sustainability-linked loans to support our commitment to continuously improve our ESG performance. We will keep on exploring other sustainable financial solutions to support our sustainable development.

In addition, the Group undertakes workplace safety and health audits on a regular basis to assess policy compliance and provide recommendations for improvement. Detailed investigations and corrective actions will be carried out on every accident in preventing future recurrence.

During the reporting year, the Group received no customer complaints regarding breach of data privacy.

We extend our sustainability commitments throughout the supply chain. Code Provision C.2.1 (Separation of the roles of Chairman and Chief Executive)

Such deviation is deemed appropriate as it is considered to be more efficient to have one single person to be Chairman of the Company as well as to discharge the executive functions of a chief executive thereby enabling more effective planning and better execution of long-term strategies. The Board believes that the balance of power and authority is adequately ensured by the operations and governance of the Board which comprises experienced and high calibre individuals, with more than half of them being Independent Non-executive Directors (“INEDs”).

The Company is committed to maintaining high standards of corporate governance to exceed the Listing Rules requirements and code provisions and adopts, where appropriate, the recommended best practices, which are to be elaborated further in this Corporate Governance Report.

The overall management of the Company's business is vested in the Board and the Directors of the Company (the "Directors") are collectively responsible for promoting the success of the Company. The Board directly, and indirectly through the Board Committees, provides effective oversight and strategic guidance on the Group's strategies and affairs, leading the achievement of strategic plans to enhance shareholders' value.

Board Composition and Board Diversity Policy

As of the date of this report, the Board consists of a total of 12 members, including five Directors with executive functions and seven INEDs.

An up-to-date list of Directors and their roles and functions is available on the respective websites of the Company and the Stock Exchange. Directors' biographical details in full compliance with disclosure requirements under the Listing Rules are set out in "(A) Biographical Details of Directors and Senior Management" on pages 73 to 78. All Directors, including INEDs, are identified as such in all corporate communications that disclose the names of Directors.

With the Board Diversity Policy adopted by the Company, the Company recognises and embraces the benefits of having a diverse Board towards enhancement of its overall performance. With a vision of achieving a sustainable and balanced development, the Company regards Board diversity as an essential element for achieving its strategic goals. Appointments of Directors are made on merits having due regard to a range of diversity objectives, including inter alia gender, age, cultural and educational background, length of service, professional experience, knowledge of the Group's business and a broad range of individual attributes, interests and values.

As to gender diversity, female representation on the Board increased from 23% to 25% following the retirement of Mr Andrew O K Chow from the Board on 12 May 2022. The Company targets to maintain at least the current level of female representation on the Board with the ultimate goal of achieving gender parity.

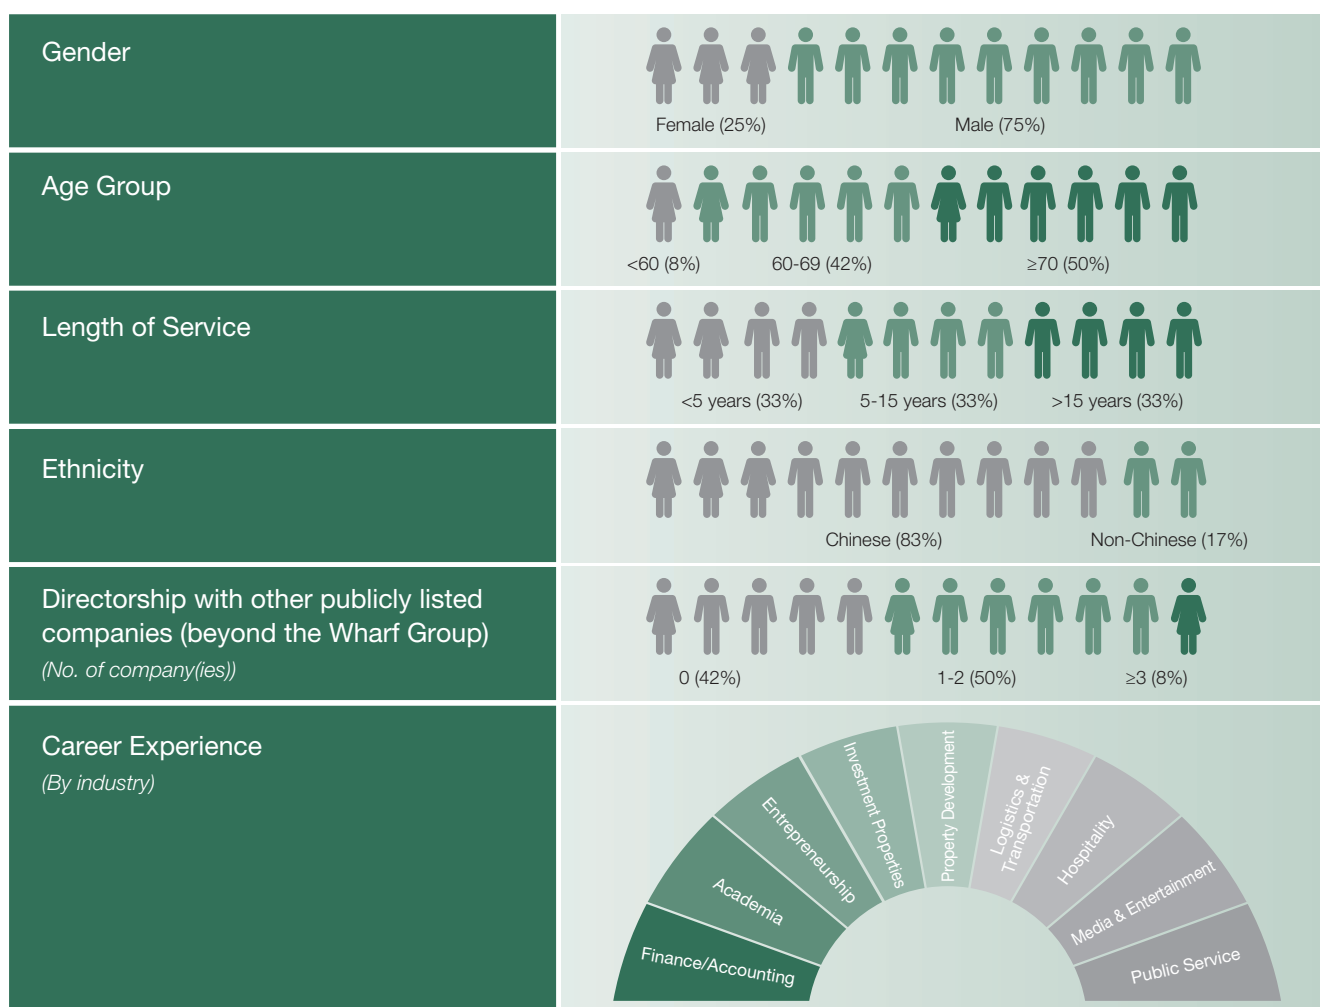

The Board considers the current Board composition has provided the Company with a good balance of skills, experience and diversity of perspectives appropriate to the requirements of its business. The Board will continue to regularly review its composition taking into consideration board diversity for the needs and benefits of the Company's business.

The Nomination Committee reviews the implementation and effectiveness of the Board Diversity Policy at least annually to ensure it remains effective and appropriate for the Company and in compliance with regulatory requirements and good corporate governance practices.

To further enhance gender diversity, the Board and the Nomination Committee will stay vigilant in identifying a pipeline of potential successors to the Board. Details of the Group's gender diversity at workforce level are set out in the Group's standalone Sustainability Report 2022.

CORPORATE GOVERNANCE REPORT

Appointment and Election of Directors

The Board, with support of the Nomination Committee, is responsible for developing and formulating the relevant procedures for nomination and appointment of Directors, monitoring the appointment of Directors and assessing the independence of INEDs. A Nomination Policy was formally adopted (details provided below) which sets out the approach in identifying, assessing and nominating suitable candidates to the Board.

In accordance with the Articles of Association of the Company, all Directors are subject to retirement by rotation at annual general meeting (the “AGM”) at least once every three years. Any new Directors appointed by the Board either to fill a casual vacancy or as an addition to the Board are subject to re-election by Shareholders at the next general meeting of the Company. At each AGM, at least one-third of the Directors for the time being shall retire from office and the retiring Directors shall be eligible for re-election.

Mr Paul Y C Tsui, Mr Kevin K P Chan, Ms Elizabeth Law and Ms Nancy S L Tse (collectively, the “Retiring Directors”) will retire at the AGM to be held on 11 May 2023. The Retiring Directors, being eligible, offer themselves for re-election. The proposed re-election of the Retiring Directors was reviewed by the Nomination Committee and the Board with reference to the criteria set out in the Nomination Policy adopted by the Company. Both the Nomination Committee and the Board are of the view that each of the Retiring Directors could continue to fulfill his/her role as required. The election of each candidate will be done through a separate resolution and there is no cumulative voting in Director elections. Details with respect to the candidates standing for re-election as Directors are set out in the AGM circular to Shareholders.

Board Independence

The Board recognises that board independence is of utmost importance and key to good corporate governance. As at the date of this report, the Board is composed of 58% INEDs, representing a strong independent element so that independent views carry weight for independent judgement.

The Company has received written annual confirmation from each of the INEDs concerning their independence pursuant to Rule 3.13 of the Listing Rules, and considers that all INEDs are independent and meet the independence guidelines set out thereunder.

All INEDs have their respective terms of appointment coming to an end normally three years after their appointment to the Board or their last re-election as Directors. The re-election of any INEDs who has served on the Board for more than nine years is subject to (1) a separate resolution to be approved by the Shareholders; and (2) further information to be set out in the circular to Shareholders stating why the Board or the nomination committee believes that the relevant INED is still independent and should be re-elected.

Given the strong independent element on the board composition, independent views and inputs are always available to the Board no matter through formal or informal channels. The Chairman promotes a culture of openness and constructive relations between INEDs and other Directors to facilitate effective contribution of INEDs for independent views and inputs. The Chairman also holds separate meetings with INEDs without the presence of other Directors at least annually. Independent professional advice is sought when necessary or as required by Directors.

During the year, the Nomination Committee has reviewed the board composition and is satisfied with the independence of the Board.

Nomination Policy

The Company has adopted formal Nomination Policy which sets out the approach in identifying, assessing and nominating suitable candidates to the Board. - Such other perspectives appropriate to the Company's business
- Requirements in respect of INEDs under the Listing Rules and whether the candidate would be considered independent with reference to the independence guidelines as set out in the Listing Rules

For appointment of new Director, the Nomination Committee as delegated by the Board shall identify and evaluate candidate based on the criteria set out above to determine whether the candidate is qualified for directorship. If the candidate is considered qualified, the Nomination Committee shall recommend to the Board for consideration and the Board, if considered appropriate, shall approve the appointment of the proposed candidate as a new Director.

For re-election of Director at general meeting, the Nomination Committee as delegated by the Board shall review the contribution made by the retiring Director and whether he/she can continue to fulfill his/her role as required with reference to the criteria set out above. The Board shall then, under advice of the Nomination Committee, make recommendation to Shareholders for the proposed re-election of Director(s) at the general meeting.

For any candidate (other than a retiring Director) nominated by the Board or Shareholder(s) to stand for election as a Director in general meeting of the Company, the Nomination Committee shall, upon receipt of the proposal of nomination and the biographical information of the candidate, evaluate his/her suitability based on the same criteria as set out above. (J) Principal Risks and Uncertainties Global and local economies always face a barrage of challenges. Global economic growth is anticipated to slow down in the midst of uncertainties from the post-COVID-19 era, gradual relaxation of travel restriction, inflation pressure and supply chain challenges. Geo-political tensions, military conflicts, ongoing Sino-US conflicts and heightened financial volatility continued to cause uncertainties.

The following is a description of how our business segments interact with the principal risks and uncertainties that are considered to be of significance and have potential to affect the Group's businesses, results of operations and financial conditions. However, this is non-exhaustive as other risks and uncertainties may arise resulting from changes in economic and other conditions over time. The Group employs a risk management and internal control framework to identify current and foreseeable risks at different levels of the organisation so as to take preventive actions to avoid or mitigate their adverse impacts.

Risks pertaining to DP

DP segment is one of the Group's major businesses. It is subject to economic, political and legal developments.

In recent years, the DP market in Mainland China has been concurrently affected by economic factors and government policies including but not limited to changes affecting the issue of pre-sale licenses and permitted selling price, mortgage levels and ownership, interest rate changes, supply and demand conditions as well as the overall economic volatility in Mainland China. The Group's DP segment is expected to continue to be exposed to these risks, which may affect the Group's investment strategy and business model as well as the performance in DP.

In this respect, the Group actively assesses the overall economic, political and legal developments as well as the property markets both in Hong Kong and in Mainland China for deciding viable acquisitions and selling strategies. For each potential project, detailed feasibility studies and stress tests with regard to all aspects are carried out before acquisition to minimise the commercial and legal risks.

Risks pertaining to IP

IP segment is another core business. With the majority of the current properties located in Mainland China, the general economic climate, regulatory changes, government policies and the political conditions in Mainland China may have a significant impact on the Group's overall financial results and condition. The Group's rental income may experience more frequent adjustments resulting from competition arising from oversupply in retail and office areas. Furthermore, rental levels may also be impacted by external economic and market conditions including but not limited to the fluctuations in general supply and demand, performance in stock markets and financial volatility, which may indirectly affect the Group's IP performance.

The spread of COVID-19 during 2022 and the resultant government measures exert economic pressure on the tenants of the Group. Though governmental measures have been relaxed, recovery in the rental market may still only be gradual. The weak retail markets affect the Group's financial results leading to decreases in revenue and adverse effects on profits and cash flows.

DIRECTORS' REPORT

IPs are stated at their fair values in accordance with the Hong Kong Financial Reporting Standards in the statement of financial position at each reporting period. The fair values are provided by independent professional surveyors, using the income capitalisation approach which capitalised the net income of properties and takes into account the significant adjustments on reversionary yield to account for the risk upon reversion, and the direct comparison method to compare with other recently transacted comparable properties, and the changes in fair value are recognised in the consolidated income statement. Given the size of the Group's IP portfolio, any significant change in the IP values may overwhelmingly affect the Group's results that may not be able to reflect the Group's operating and cash flow performance.

In this respect, the Group regularly assesses changes in the economic environment and keeps alert to market needs and competitors' offensives in order to maintain competitiveness. Continuously maintaining the quality of the assets and building up a diversified and high-quality tenant-mix also help the Group to grow revenue and to resist a sluggish economy. In addition, long-range planned and tactical promotions are seamlessly executed for maintaining the IPs' leading brands and value.

Risks pertaining to Logistics Segment

The Group operates container terminals both in Hong Kong and Mainland China. The coronavirus pandemic and sharp interest rate hike have triggered a dramatic plunge for major economies around the world and recovery is uneven. This may be exacerbated by the war in Europe and collateral implications to global economies. Sino-US tensions are also escalating. De-globalisation and de-concentration of supply chains may diminish China's role in world trade.

Amidst all that, Modern Terminals will remain focused on improving operational performance and delivering on customer requirements to maximise cash flow and strengthen the company's balance sheet. We have already implemented a multi-year programme to increase operational efficiency and infrastructure capability.

Risks pertaining to Hotels Segment

The Group operates 16 hotels in Asia, four of which wholly or partly owned by the Group. Hotel performance is usually subject to a high degree of fluctuations caused by both predictable and unpredictable factors including seasonality, economic conditions, social stability, epidemic diseases and ease of traveling. Each factor has varied the development pattern of the tourism and hospitality industry.

The segment has been adversely affected by the COVID-19 pandemic and respective governmental responses. Counter measures like restriction on travels both domestically and internationally, as well as social distancing adopted by governments unavoidably impact our operations and financial results leading to plunge in revenue, increases in costs and adverse effects on profits and cash flows. The post-COVID-19 era, the gradual relaxation of measures and the re-opening of Mainland-Hong Kong border cast hope at the end of the tunnel.

In this respect, Hotels segment closely assesses the impact of post-COVID-19 era particularly on revenue and cash flow as well as cost control and operational efficiency to mitigate the adverse financial impacts. It also takes continual reviews of competition, legal and political changes as well as market trends for setting its business strategies including marketing and pricing to protect and drive profitability and cash flow.

Risks pertaining to Investments Segment

The Group holds a diversified portfolio of long term investments both for capital growth and/or reasonable yields. It consists of mainly blue chips investments. None of the investments is individually material to the Group's total assets. Given the volatility of the stock market, the portfolio is subject to market fluctuation and may affect the net asset value and/or financial performance of the Group. The composition and performance of the portfolio is constantly assessed and monitored by top management.

Legal and Regulatory Compliance Risks

Whilst the Group has a portfolio of business operations principally across Hong Kong and various Mainland cities, any failure to anticipate the trend of regulatory changes or cope with relevant requirements may result in noncompliance with local laws or regulation, leading to not only financial loss but also reputational damage to the Group. In mitigation of relevant risks, the Group actively assesses the effect of relevant developments and engages closely with regulatory authorities and external advisors on new laws and regulations and also trending legislations to ensure relevant requirements are properly complied with in an effective manner.

Financial Risks

The Group is exposed to financial risks related to interest rate, foreign currency, equity price and credit in the normal course of its business. For further details of such risks and relevant management policies, please refer to Note 22 to the Financial Statements from pages 135 to 143.

Environmental, Social and Governance Risks

Given climate change is a globally recognised environmental urgency faced by any business, and failure to build climate resilience can negatively impact our real estate portfolio, the Group carried out a climate risk mapping exercise with reference to Task Force on Climate-related Financial Disclosures (TCFD)'s recommendations. Climate scenario analysis was conducted to understand the impact at different climate landscapes and time frames, and significant physical and transition risks and opportunities were identified. To adapt to and mitigate the climate-related risks, we have the Climate Change Policy Statement in place, and implemented measures for energy optimisation and conservation, as well as adopting green procurement and construction practices gradually.

The global pandemic and regional competition for skilled professionals has made talent attraction and retention a social risk to the Group. Our labour-intensive business nature also exposes the Group to normal labour issues including occupational safety and health risks. The Group also adopts rigorous vendor system for supply chain management, to avoid any form of supply chain risks, including the ESG risks derived from our suppliers.

Just like any other sizable organisations with complex structure, the Group encounters governance risks that could result in significant financial losses and damage the reputation of the business. To uphold our commitment to achieve the highest standards of business conduct, the Group adopts an integrated and holistic approach to reduce the inefficiencies, miscommunications and other perils of deficiencies in governance. Our Corporate Governance Report (pages 46 to 69) elaborates in details our systems, policies and practices which aim to ensure proper corporate management and to instill a culture of good business ethics in our organisation.

For more details on how we address ESG and climate-related risks, please refer to the Group's standalone Sustainability Report 2022.

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT

TO THE MEMBERS OF THE WHARF (HOLDINGS) LIMITED

(incorporated in Hong Kong with limited liability)

We have audited the consolidated financial statements of The Wharf (Holdings) Limited ("the Company") and its subsidiaries ("the Group") set out on pages 96 to 181, which comprise the consolidated statement of financial position as at 31 December 2022, the consolidated income statement, the consolidated statement of comprehensive income, the consolidated statement of changes in equity and the consolidated statement of cash flows for the year then ended and notes to the consolidated financial statements, including a summary of significant accounting policies.

In our opinion, the consolidated financial statements give a true and fair view of the consolidated financial position of the Group as at 31 December 2022 and of its consolidated financial performance and its consolidated cash flows for the year then ended in accordance with Hong Kong Financial Reporting Standards ("HKFRS") issued by the Hong Kong Institute of Certified Public Accountants ("HKICPA") and have been properly prepared in compliance with the Hong Kong Companies Ordinance.

BASIS FOR OPINION

We conducted our audit in accordance with Hong Kong Standards on Auditing ("HKSAs") issued by the HKICPA. Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditor's responsibilities for the audit of the consolidated financial statements section of our report. We are independent of the Group in accordance with the HKICPA's Code of Ethics for Professional Accountants ("the Code") and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with the Code. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT

KEY AUDIT MATTERS

Key audit matters are those matters that, in our professional judgement, were of most significance in our audit of the consolidated financial statements of the current period. These matters were addressed in the context of our audit of the consolidated financial statements as a whole, and in forming our opinion thereon, and we do not provide a separate opinion on these matters.

Valuation of completed investment properties ("IP")

Refer to accounting policy d and Note 8 to the consolidated financial statements

The key audit matter

The Group holds a portfolio of IP located in Hong Kong and in major cities across Mainland China which accounted for 31% of the Group's total assets as at 31 December 2022.

The fair values of the IP as at 31 December 2022 were assessed by the Group based on independent valuations prepared by a qualified external property valuer.

We identified the valuation of IP as a key audit matter because a small adjustment to or variances in the assumptions and data used to compute the valuation of individual property, when aggregated, could have a significant impact on the Group's financial results and because the valuation of IP involves significant judgement and estimation, particularly in selecting appropriate valuation methodologies, market rents and capitalisation rates or market selling prices, where applicable, which increases the risk of error or potential management bias.

How the matter was addressed in our audit

Our audit procedures to assess the valuation of IP included the following:

- obtaining and inspecting the valuation reports prepared by the external property valuer engaged by the Group;
- meeting the external property valuer to discuss and challenge the key estimates and assumptions adopted in the valuations, including prevailing market rents and capitalisation rates or market selling prices, where applicable, and to assess the objectivity, qualifications and expertise of the external property valuer in the properties being valued;
- with the assistance of our internal property valuation specialists, assessing the valuation methodologies adopted by the external property valuer and comparing the key estimates and assumptions adopted in the valuation of IP, on a sample basis, including market rents and capitalisation rates or market selling prices, where applicable, with available market data and/or government statistics; and
- conducting site visits to IP and comparing tenancy information used in the valuation models, including committed rents adopted by the external property valuer with underlying contracts and related documentation, on a sample basis.

Assessing the net realisable value of properties for sale

Refer to accounting policy I and Note 14 to the consolidated financial statements

The key audit matter

The Group had a number of property development projects located in Hong Kong and major cities across Mainland China which were stated at the lower of cost and net realisable value at an aggregate amount of HK$43 billion as at 31 December 2022.

The calculation of the net realisable value of each property for sale, including both completed properties for sale and properties under development for sale ("PUD"), either directly held by the Group or through its joint ventures and associates, at the financial reporting date is performed by the Group management.

The calculation of net realisable value of properties for sale involves significant management judgement and estimation in preparing and updating project feasibility studies and estimations of the costs to complete each PUD as well as in assessing the expected selling prices for each property for sale.

Changes in government policies, which affect interest rates, the required reserve ratio for banks and/or mortgage requirements for second-home buyers, could lead to volatility in property prices in these cities.

We identified the assessment of net realisable value of properties for sale as a key audit matter because of the inherent risks involved in estimating the costs to complete each PUD and the future selling prices for each property for sale, particularly in light of the current economic circumstances and because of the risk of management bias in the judgement and estimates used in the calculation of the net realisable value.

How the matter was addressed in our audit

Our audit procedures to assess the net realisable value of properties for sale, either directly held by the Group or through its joint ventures and associates, included the following:

- conducting site visits to properties for sale on a sample basis, discussing the progress with the Group management and comparing the observed progress with the latest development budgets for PUD provided by management with reference to quantity surveyors' reports;
- assessing the Group management's qualifications, experience and expertise in the properties being valued;
- evaluating the Group management's valuation methodology and assessing the key estimates, data inputs and assumptions adopted in the valuations, which included comparing expected future average selling prices with available market data such as recently transacted prices for similar properties located in the nearby vicinity of each property for sale and comparing costs to complete each PUD with publicly available construction cost information for similar properties (taking into account both property type and location), on a sample basis;
- re-performing the calculations made by the Group management in arriving at the year end assessments of net realisable value of properties for sale, and comparing the estimated costs to complete the PUD with the Group's latest budgets, on a sample basis; and
- performing sensitivity analyses to determine the extent of change in those estimates that, either individually or collectively, would be required for properties for sale to be materially misstated and considering the likelihood of such a movement in those key estimates arising and whether there was any evidence of management bias.

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT

Revenue recognition for investment properties ("IP") and development properties ("DP")

Refer to accounting policy p and Note 1 to the consolidated financial statements

The key audit matter

Revenue from the IP and DP segments accounted for 68% of the Group's revenue for the year ended 31 December 2022.

Deposits from sale of properties at 31 December 2022 totalled HK$8.2 billion.

Revenue from IP is recognised in equal instalments over the accounting periods covered by the lease term and includes contingent rental which is determined based on the turnover of certain retail outlets.

Revenue from DP is recognised at a point in time when control of the property has been transferred to the customer. It is considered control of the property has been transferred when the property is accepted by the customer.

We identified the revenue recognition for IP and DP as a key audit matter because of its significance to the Group and because small errors in the recognition of revenue, either individually or in aggregate, for each property development project could have a material impact on the Group's financial results for the year.

How the matter was addressed in our audit

Our audit procedures to assess the revenue recognition for IP and DP included the following:

- comparing fixed rental revenue received and receivable with underlying tenancy information, including monthly rents and rental periods as set out in the signed rental agreements, on a sample basis, and assessing whether fixed rental revenue had been recorded in the appropriate accounting period;
- re-performing the calculation of contingent rental received and receivable with reference to turnover reports submitted by the relevant retail outlets, on a sample basis, and assessing whether the contingent rental had been recorded and accounted for in the appropriate accounting period; and
- inspecting on a sample basis, documents which evidenced that the properties were accepted by customers and assessing whether the related revenue should be recorded in the current accounting period.

INFORMATION OTHER THAN THE CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS AND AUDITOR'S REPORT THEREON

The directors are responsible for the other information. The other information comprises all the information included in the annual report, other than the consolidated financial statements and our auditor's report thereon.

Our opinion on the consolidated financial statements does not cover the other information and we do not express any form of assurance conclusion thereon.

In connection with our audit of the consolidated financial statements, our responsibility is to read the other information and, in doing so, consider whether the other information is materially inconsistent with the consolidated financial statements or our knowledge obtained in the audit or otherwise appears to be materially misstated.

If, based on the work we have performed, we conclude that there is a material misstatement of this other information, we are required to report that fact. We have nothing to report in this regard.

RESPONSIBILITIES OF THE DIRECTORS FOR THE CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

The directors are responsible for the preparation of consolidated financial statements that give a true and fair view in accordance with HKFRSs issued by the HKICPA and the Hong Kong Companies Ordinance and for such internal control as the directors determine is necessary to enable the preparation of consolidated financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the consolidated financial statements, the directors are responsible for assessing the Group's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless the directors either intend to liquidate the Group or to cease operations, or have no realistic alternative but to do so.

The directors are assisted by the Audit Committee in discharging their responsibilities for overseeing the Group's financial reporting process.

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT

AUDITOR'S RESPONSIBILITIES FOR THE AUDIT OF THE CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the consolidated financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. This report is made solely to you, as a body, in accordance with section 405 of the Hong Kong Companies Ordinance, and for no other purpose. We do not assume responsibility towards or accept liability to any other person for the contents of this report.

Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with HKSAs will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these consolidated financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with HKSAs, we exercise professional judgement and maintain professional scepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the consolidated financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Group's internal control.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by the directors.
- Conclude on the appropriateness of the directors' use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Group's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the consolidated financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Group to cease to continue as a going concern.
- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the consolidated financial statements, including the disclosures and whether the consolidated financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.
- Obtain sufficient appropriate audit evidence regarding the financial information of the entities or business activities within the Group to express an opinion on the consolidated financial statements. We are responsible for the direction, supervision and performance of the group audit. We remain solely responsible for our audit opinion.

We communicate with the Audit Committee regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

We also provide the Audit Committee with a statement that we have complied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence and communicate with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence and, where applicable, actions taken to eliminate threats or safeguards applied.

From the matters communicated with the Audit Committee, we determine those matters that were of most significance in the audit of the consolidated financial statements for the current period and are therefore the key audit matters. We describe these matters in our auditor's report unless law or regulation precludes public disclosure about the matter or when, in extremely rare circumstances, we determine that a matter should not be communicated in our report because the adverse consequences of doing so would reasonably be expected to outweigh the public interest benefits of such communication.

The engagement partner on the audit resulting in this independent auditor's report is Cheung Wing Han, Ivy.

NOTES TO THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

1. SEGMENT INFORMATION

The Group manages its diversified businesses according to the nature of services and products provided. Management has determined five reportable operating segments for measuring performance and allocating resources. The segments are investment properties, development properties, hotels, logistics and investments. No operating segments have been aggregated to form the reportable segments.

Investment properties segment primarily includes property leasing and management operations. The Group's properties portfolio, which mainly consists of retail, office and serviced apartments is primarily located in Mainland China.

Development properties segment encompasses activities relating to the acquisition, development, sales and marketing of the Group's trading properties primarily in Hong Kong and Mainland China.

Hotels segment includes hotel management in Asia. The Group operates 16 hotels in Asia, four of which wholly or partly owned by the Group.

Logistics segment mainly includes the container terminal operations in Hong Kong and Mainland China undertaken by Modern Terminals Limited, and Hong Kong Air Cargo Terminals Limited.

Investments segment includes a diversified portfolio of listed equity investments in Hong Kong and overseas and unlisted investments, mainly property and new economy companies. The performance of the portfolio is assessed and monitored by top management regularly.

Management evaluates performance primarily based on operating profit as well as the equity share of results of associates and joint ventures of each segment. Inter-segment pricing is generally determined on an arm's length basis.

Segment business assets principally comprise all tangible assets, intangible assets and current assets directly attributable to each segment with the exception of bank deposits and cash, deferred tax assets and derivative financial assets.

Revenue and expenses are allocated with reference to revenue generated by those segments and expenses incurred by those segments or which arise from the depreciation of assets attributable to those segments.

The Group holds investment properties to lease out under operating leases (see Note 8(f)). The Group is the registered owner of the property interests of these investment properties. There are no ongoing payments to be made under the terms of the land lease, other than payments based on rateable values set by the relevant government authorities. These payments vary from time to time and are payable to the relevant government authorities.

d. Investment properties revaluation

The Group's investment properties under development are stated at fair value at the earlier of when the fair value first becomes reliably measurable and the date of completion of the properties.

The investment properties stated at fair value as at 31 December 2022 were revalued by Knight Frank, an independent firm of professional surveyors who have among their staff Fellows of the Hong Kong Institute of Surveyors with extensive experience in valuing properties in Hong Kong and Mainland China. Knight Frank has valued the investment properties on a market value basis and has taken into account the net income of the respective properties, allowing for reversionary potential and the redevelopment potential of the properties where appropriate.

The revaluation surplus or deficit arising on revaluation on investment properties is recognised in the line item "increase/(decrease)" in fair value of investment properties" on the consolidated income statement.

The following table presents the investment properties which are measured at fair value at the end of the reporting period across the three levels of the inputs to the revaluation methodologies in accordance with HKFRS 13, Fair value measurement. The levels are defined as follows:

Level 1 valuations: Fair value measured using only level 1 inputs i.e. unadjusted quoted prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities at the measurement date.

Level 2 valuations: Fair value measured using level 2 inputs i.e. observable inputs which fail to meet level 1, and not using significant unobservable inputs. Unobservable inputs are inputs for which market data is not available.

Level 3 valuations: Fair value measured using significant unobservable inputs.

Except for certain investment properties in Hong Kong totalled HK$7,770 million (2021: Nil) which are at Level 2 valuations as at 31 December 2022, the Group's investment properties are at Level 3 valuations and are analysed as below:

	Retail HK$ Million	Office HK$ Million	Level 3 Residential HK$ Million	Others HK$ Million	Total HK$ Million

NOTES TO THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

The movements during the year in the balance of Level 3 fair value measurements are as follows:

	Completed HK$ Million	Under development HK$ Million	Total HK$ Million
At 1 January 2021	71,946	6,204	78,150
Exchange adjustment	1,648	–	1,648
Additions	204	422	626
Transfer	(2,507)	–	(2,507)
Disposals	(2,379)	(50)	(2,429)
Revaluation surpluses	953	65	1,018
At 31 December 2021 and 1 January 2022	69,865	6,641	76,506
Exchange adjustment	(4,935)	–	(4,935)
Additions	35	1,035	1,070
Transfer	(3,156)	(7,676)	(10,832)
Revaluation deficits	(359)	–	(359)
At 31 December 2022	61,450	–	61,450

During the year ended 31 December 2021, there were no transfers between Level 1 and Level 2 or transfers into or out of Level 3. While during the year ended 31 December 2022, there were no transfers between Level 1 and Level 2, yet investment properties in Hong Kong under development with an aggregate carrying value of HK$7,676 million were transferred from Level 3 to Level 2 valuations upon the completion of such properties and/or more observable inputs were used in the valuations.

The Group's policy is to recognise transfers between levels of fair value hierarchy as of the date of the event of change in circumstances that caused the transfer.

Valuation processes

The Group reviews the valuations performed by the independent valuers for financial reporting purposes by verifying all major inputs and assessing the reasonableness of the property valuations. A valuation report with an analysis of changes in fair value measurement is prepared at each interim and annual reporting date and is reviewed and approved by the senior management.

Valuation methodologies

As at 31 December 2022, the valuations of the property completed during the year and a property under development were based on market comparison approach with reference to recent market transactions of comparable properties, which were regarded as Level 2 valuations.

Except for those mentioned above, the valuations of completed properties in Hong Kong and Mainland China were based on the income capitalisation approach which capitalised the net income of the properties and took into account the significant adjustments on reversionary yield to account for the risk upon reversion.

As at 31 December 2021, for properties in Hong Kong which were still under development/redevelopment, the valuations were based on the redevelopment basis by taking into account the fair value of properties under development/redevelopment assuming they had been completed as at the date of valuation and then deducting from that amount the estimated costs to complete construction, financing costs and profit and margin for risk.

Level 3 valuation methodologies

Completed investment properties

Set out below is a table which presents the significant unobservable inputs:

	Weighted average
	Capitalisation rate		Market rent
	2022	2021	2022	2021
Hong Kong			HK$ psf	HK$ psf
– Residential	1.5%	1.5%	80	80
Mainland China			RMB psm	RMB psm
– Retail	6.4%	6.4%	353	340
– Office	6.5%	6.5%	157	163
– Residential	4.3%	4.3%	152	150

The fair value measurement of completed investment properties is negatively correlated to the capitalisation rate but positively correlated to the market rent.

- e. The Group leases out properties under operating leases, which generally run for a period of two to five years. Lease payments may be varied periodically to reflect market rentals and may contain variable lease payment which is based on various percentages of tenants' sales receipts.
- f. The Group's total future undiscounted lease income under non-cancellable operating leases is receivable as follows:

	2022	2021
	HK$ Million	HK$ Million

c. Impairment of property, plant and equipment

The carrying amounts of hotel properties, plant and equipment are assessed at the end of the reporting period where there is any indication of impairment by estimating the recoverable amount, which is the greater of its fair value less costs of disposal and value in use. In assessing the impairments, an independent valuation is obtained from Knight Frank using the market value basis and has taken into account the net income of the respective properties, allowing for reversionary potential where appropriate, details of which are disclosed in Note 3(b).

d. Hotel properties under development

As at 31 December 2022, hotel properties under development amounting to HK$243 million were not subject to depreciation.

e. Right-of-use assets

The Group holds a number of properties and leasehold land to lease out under operating leases or held for own use as the Group's offices (as right-of-use assets) and for the operations of hotels and logistics businesses (see Notes 8 and 9(b)). The Group is the registered owner of these property interests. There are no ongoing payments to be made under the terms of the land lease, other than payments based on rateable values set by the relevant government authorities. These payments vary from time to time and are payable to the relevant government authorities.

	2022 HK$ Million	2021 HK$ Million
Trade receivables
0–30 days	104	162
31–60 days	33	53
61–90 days	23	22
Over 90 days	84	73
	244	310
Other receivables and prepayments	1,511	1,576
Group total	1,755	1,886

The Group has established credit policies for each of its core businesses. The general credit terms allowed range from 0 to 60 days, except for sale of properties the proceeds from which are receivable pursuant to the terms of the agreements. All the receivables and prepayments are expected to be recoverable or recognised as expenses within one year.

b. Impairment of trade receivables

Impairment losses in respect of trade receivables are recorded using an allowance account based on expected credit losses. Given the Group has not experienced any significant credit losses in the past and holds sufficient rental deposits from tenants to cover the potential exposure to credit risk, the allowance for expected credit losses is therefore insignificant.

The movement in the allowance account for credit losses during the year, including both specific and collective loss components, is as follows:

	2022 HK$ Million	2021 HK$ Million
At 1 January	4	13
Provision/(reversal) of loss allowance recognised	11	(9)
At 31 December	15	4

Deposits from sale of properties in the amount of HK$1,583 million (2021: HK$3,219 million) are expected to be recognised as revenue in the consolidated income statement after more than one year.

The Group receives whole or a portion of contract value as deposits from customers when they sign the sale and purchase agreement. These deposits are recognised as a contract liability and presented as “Deposits from sale of properties” until the properties are completed and legally assigned to/accepted by the customers.

Revenue expected to be recognised in the future arising from contracts with customers in existence at the reporting date

As at 31 December 2022, the aggregated amount of the transaction price allocated to the remaining performance obligations under the Group’s existing contracts is HK$8,171 million (2021: HK$10,573 million). This amount represents revenue expected to be recognised in the future from pre-completion sales contracts for properties under development entered into by the customers with the Group. The Group will recognise the expected revenue in future at the completion date of legal assignment or, in the case of the properties under development for sale, when the properties are accepted by the customers, which is expected to occur over the next 36 months.

The Group has not recognised the deferred tax assets attributable to the future benefit of tax losses sustained in the operations of certain subsidiaries as the availability of future taxable profits against which the assets can be utilised is uncertain at 31 December 2022 and 2021. The tax losses arising from Hong Kong operations do not expire under current tax legislation. The tax losses outside Hong Kong are mainly arose in Mainland China, which can be carried forward to offset against taxable profits of subsequent years for up to five years from the year in which they arose.

22. FINANCIAL RISK MANAGEMENT AND FAIR VALUES

The Group is exposed to financial risks related to interest rate, foreign currency, equity price, liquidity and credit in the normal course of business. To manage some of these risks, the Group Finance Committee develops, maintains and monitors the Group's financial management policies designed to facilitate cost efficient funding to the Group and to mitigate the impact of fluctuations in interest rates and exchange rates. The financial management policies are implemented by the Group's Treasury department, which operates as a centralised service unit in close co-operation with the Group's operating units for managing the day-to-day treasury functions and financial risks and for providing cost efficient funding to the Group.

The Group uses derivatives, principally forward currency contracts and interest rate and cross currency interest rate swaps, as deemed appropriate, for financing and hedging transactions and for managing risks associated with the Group's assets and liabilities. It is the Group's policy not to enter into derivative transactions and invest in financial products with significant underlying leverage which are commercially speculative.

a. Interest rate risk

Interest rate risk is the risk that the fair value or future cash flows of a financial instrument will fluctuate because of changes in market interest rates.

The Group's main exposure to interest rate risk relates principally to the Group's borrowings. Borrowings at variable rates expose the Group to cash flow interest rate risk whilst borrowings at fixed rate expose the Group to fair value interest rate risk. The Group manages its interest rate risk exposure in accordance with defined policies and reviews this exposure with a focus on reducing the Group's overall cost of funding as well as maintaining the floating/fixed rate mix appropriate to its current business portfolio.

In line with the Group's prevailing strategy, the Group has entered into a number of interest rate swaps ("IRS") and cross currency interest rate swaps ("CCS") which have the economic effect of converting certain fixed rate interest bearing notes with notional amounts totalling HK$5,470 million (2021: HK$6,557 million) into floating rate borrowings. For each of the IRS and CCS entered into by the Group, the tenor and timing of the IRS and CCS cash flows matches those of the notes.

To ensure the certainty of a proportion of funding costs in the forthcoming years, the Group has entered into various floating-to-fixed IRS with notional amounts totalling HK$1,800 million (2021: HK$1,800 million) with maturities of 10 to 15 years together with another HK$1,800 million (2021: HK$1,800 million) fixed-to-floating IRS with a maturity of 2 years. Effectively, this arrangement has locked in fixed interest rates ranging from 2.4% to 3.6% per annum for a certain portion of the Group's floating rate loan portfolio for a period of 8 to 13 years from 2011 to 2012 onwards.

As at 31 December 2022, after taking into account of IRS and CCS, substantially all of the Group's borrowings were at floating rates (2021: approximately 95% at floating rates and the remaining 5% were at fixed rates (see Note 20(b))).

NOTES TO THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

Based on a sensitivity analysis performed as at 31 December 2022, it was estimated that a general increase/decrease of 1% (2021: 1%) in interest rates, with all other variables held constant, would have decreased/increased post-tax loss and increased/decreased total equity of the Group by approximately HK$19 million (2021: increased/decreased post-tax profit and total equity of the Group by approximately HK$78 million). This takes into account the effect of interest bearing bank deposits.

The sensitivity analysis above indicates the instantaneous change in the Group's post-tax profit/loss and total equity that would have arisen assuming that the change in interest rates had occurred at the end of the reporting period and had been applied to re-measure those financial instruments held by the Group which expose the Group to fair value interest rate risk at the end of the reporting period. In respect of the exposure to cash flow interest rate risk arising from floating rate non-derivative instruments held by the Group at the end of the reporting period, the impact on the Group's post-tax profit/loss and total equity is estimated as an annualised impact on interest expense or income of such a change in interest rates. The analysis has been performed on the same basis as for 2021.

b. Foreign currency risk

The Group owns assets and conducts its businesses both in Hong Kong and Mainland China, with its cash flows denominated substantially in HKD and RMB which exposes the Group to foreign currency risk with respect to RMB arising from its properties development and port-related operations and investments in Mainland China.

The Group is also exposed to foreign currency risk in respect of its borrowings denominated in USD, JPY and SGD. Anticipated foreign exchange payments relate primarily to interest expense payments, repayment of principal and capital expenditure. Where appropriate or available in a cost-efficient manner, the Group may enter into forward foreign exchange and cross currency swap contracts to manage its foreign currency risk arising from above anticipated transactions denominated in currencies other than its entities' functional currencies.

The Group's borrowings are predominantly denominated in the functional currency of the entity taking out the borrowings. In the case of group companies whose functional currencies are HKD, their borrowings are mostly denominated in HKD or USD. For managing the overall financing costs of existing and future capital requirements for the projects in Mainland China, the Group has adopted a diversified funding approach and has entered into certain cross currency interest rate swaps and forward foreign exchange contracts. Based on the prevailing accounting standards, the swaps and forward foreign exchange contracts are marked to market with the valuation movements recognised in the consolidated income statement.

The following table details the Group's exposure at the end of the reporting period to currency risk arising from recognised assets/(liabilities) denominated in a currency other than the functional currency of the Group's entities to which they relate. Differences resulting from the translation of the financial statements of foreign operations into the Group's presentation currency and exposure arising from inter-company balances which are considered to be in the nature of investment in a subsidiary are excluded.

Overall net exposure	1,889	(478)	17	2	1,882	7,886	22	36

In addition, at 31 December 2022, the PRC subsidiaries of the Group with RMB as their functional currency are exposed to foreign currency risk with respect to HKD/USD by holding HKD/USD denominated bank deposits and cash, trade and other payables and inter-company borrowings in the amount of HK$145 million, HK$Nil and HK$96 million respectively (2021: HK$155 million, HK$4 million and HK$96 million respectively).

Based on the sensitivity analysis performed as at 31 December 2022, it was estimated that the impact on the Group's post tax profit/loss and total equity would not be material in response to possible changes in the foreign exchange rates of foreign currencies to which the Group is exposed.

It is further analysed that the sensitivity on the translation of the Mainland China operations from 1% (2021: 1%) increase/decrease of exchange rate of RMB against HKD, the Group's total equity would have increased/decreased by HK$647 million (2021: HK$834 million).

NOTES TO THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

c. Equity price risk

The Group is exposed to equity price changes arising from other long term investments held for long-term investment purpose.

Other long term investments held in the investment portfolio have been chosen for their long term growth potential and returns and are monitored regularly for performance. Given that the volatility of the stock markets may not have a direct correlation with the Group's investment portfolio, it is impractical to determine the impact that the changes in stock market indices would have on the Group's portfolio of equity investments.

Based on a sensitivity analysis performed as at 31 December 2022, it was estimated that an increase/decrease of 10% in the market value of the Group's listed equity investments, with all other variables held constant, would not have affected the Group's post-tax results but would have increased/decreased the Group's total equity by HK$4,027 million (2021: HK$4,410 million). The analysis has been performed on the same basis as for 2021.

The Group also holds certain unlisted investments which are measured at FVTPL, mainly in new economy sector. The fair value of these unlisted investments may not have a direct correlation with the trend of stock market indices, given the marketability of such unlisted investments are not comparable with the listed investments. Based on a sensitivity analysis performed as at 31 December 2022, it was estimated that an increase/decrease of 10% in the market value of the Group's unlisted investments, with all other variables held constant, would have decreased/increased the loss after tax and increased/decreased the total equity of the Group by HK$865 million (2021: increased/decreased the profit after tax and the total equity of the Group by HK$880 million). The analysis has been performed on the same basis as for 2021.

d. Liquidity risk

The Group adopts a prudent liquidity risk management policy, maintaining sufficient reserves of cash and readily realisable marketable securities and adequate committed lines of funding with staggered maturities to reduce refinancing risk in any year from major financial institutions and to maintain flexibility for meeting its liquidity requirements in the short and longer term. The Group's cash management is substantially centralised within the Group Treasury department, which regularly monitors the current and expected liquidity requirements and its compliance with lending covenants.

Certain non-wholly-owned subsidiaries are responsible for their own cash management, including the short term investment of cash surpluses with creditworthy financial institutions and the raising of loans to cover expected cash demands, in accordance with the established policies and strategies with the concurrence of the Company.

The following tables detail the remaining contractual maturities at the end of the reporting period of the Group's derivative and non-derivative financial liabilities, which are based on contractual undiscounted cash flows (including interest payments computed using contractual rates or, if floating, based on rates at the end of the reporting period and carried at the exchange rates prevailing at the end of the reporting period) and the earliest date the Group can be required to pay:

The Company is exposed to liquidity risk that arises from financial guarantees given by the Company on behalf of subsidiaries. The guarantees are callable if the respective subsidiary is unable to meet its obligations and the maximum amount callable as at 31 December 2022 was HK$15.7 billion (2021: HK$32.1 billion).

e. Credit risk

Credit risk refers to the risk that a counterparty will default on its contractual obligations resulting in a financial loss to the Group.

The Group's credit risk is primarily attributable to trade and other receivables (including rental receivables), cash and cash equivalents and over-the-counter derivative financial instruments. The exposures to these credit risks are closely monitored on an ongoing basis by established credit policies and procedures in each of the Group's core businesses. In respect of rental receivables, sufficient rental deposits from tenants are held to cover potential exposure to credit risk. Further, evaluations are made for the customers with reference to their repayment history and financial strength, as well as the economic environment in which the customer operates.

NOTES TO THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

The Group measures loss allowance for trade receivables from customers in accordance with accounting policy (k). The allowance for expected credit losses is insignificant.

Cash at bank, deposits placed with financial institutions and investments and transactions involving derivative financial instruments are with counter parties with sound credit ratings to minimise credit exposure.

The Group has no significant concentrations of credit risk. The maximum exposure to credit risk is represented by the carrying amount of each financial asset in the consolidated statement of financial position. Except for the financial guarantees given by the Company as set out in Note 26, the Group does not provide any other guarantee which would expose the Group or the Company to material credit risk.

f. Fair values of assets and liabilities

i. Assets and liabilities carried at fair value

The following table presents the fair value of the Group's consolidated financial instruments measured at the end of the reporting period on a recurring basis, categorised into the three-level fair value hierarchy as defined in HKFRS 13. The level into which a fair value measurement is classified is determined with reference to the observability and significance of the inputs used in the valuation technique as defined in Note 8(d).

The fair value measurement information for recurring financial instruments in accordance with HKFRS 13 is given below:

During the years ended 31 December 2022 and 2021, there were no transfers between Level 1 and Level 2. The Group's policy is to recognise transfers into and out of fair value hierarchy levels as of the date of the event of change in circumstances that caused the transfer.

Valuation techniques and inputs used in Level 2 fair value measurements

The fair value of forward foreign exchange contracts in Level 2 is determined by using the forward exchange rates at the end of the reporting period and comparing them to the contractual rates.

The fair value of interest rate swaps and cross currency interest rate swaps in Level 2 is determined based on the amount that the Group would receive or pay to terminate the swaps at the end of the reporting period taking into account current interest rates and current creditworthiness of the swap counter-parties.

The fair values of bank loans and other borrowings in Level 2 is determined based on cash flows discounted using the Group's current incremental borrowing rates for similar types of borrowings with maturities consistent with those remaining for the debt being valued.

NOTES TO THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

Valuation techniques and inputs used in Level 3 fair value measurements

The Group's unlisted investments categorised in Level 3 comprise private equity funds. These are private equity funds and were managed by independent asset managers who applied various investment strategies to accomplish their respective investment objectives. The fair value of these funds is recorded based on valuations supplied by the fund managers. These valuations are measured by the percentage of ownership of the private equity's net asset value, which is an unobservable input. The fund managers estimated the fair value of underlying investments based on direct market quote for Level 1 financial instruments. For other investments, the fund managers apply appropriate valuation techniques such as latest transaction price, discounted cash flow, or a forward price/earnings multiple arrived at by comparison with publicly-traded comparable companies and after applying a liquidity discount. The models are calibrated regularly and tested for validity using prices from any observable current market transactions in the same instruments or based on any available observable market data.

The movements during the year in the balance of these Level 3 fair value measurements are as follows:

	2022 HK$ Million	2021 HK$ Million
Unlisted investments
At 1 January	8,802	6,000
Payment for purchases	309	1,636
Transfer to Level 1	(4)	(60)
Disposals	(24)	–
Net unrealised (losses)/gains recognised in consolidated income statement	(432)	1,226
At 31 December	8,651	8,802

Transfer out of level 3

The Group held certain unlisted investments in equity shares with fair value totalled HK$4 million (2021: HK$60 million) as at the date of transfer. The fair value of these investments was categorised at Level 3 at the end of previous reporting period (for information on the valuation technique, see above). This was because the shares were not listed on any stock exchange markets and there were no recent observable arm's length transactions in the shares.

During 2022, those unlisted investments in equity shares have been listed on exchange markets and they are currently actively traded. Because the equity shares now have published price quotations in active markets, the fair value measurement was transferred from Level 3 to Level 1 of the fair value hierarchy at 31 December 2022.

Any gain or loss arising from the remeasurement of the Group's unlisted investments were recognised in the other net charge (see Note 3) in the consolidated income statement.

ii. Assets and liabilities carried at other than fair value

The carrying amounts of the Group's financial assets and liabilities carried at amortised cost are not materially different from their fair values as at 31 December 2022 and 2021.

g. Capital management

The Group's primary objective when managing capital is to safeguard the Group's ability to continue as a going concern, to meet its financial obligations and continue to provide returns for shareholders and benefits for other stakeholders, by pricing products and services commensurately with the level of risk and by securing access to finance at a reasonable cost.

The Group actively and regularly reviews and manages its capital structure to maintain a balance between the higher shareholders' returns that might be possible with higher levels of borrowings and the advantages and security afforded by a sound capital position, and makes adjustments to the capital structure in the light of changes in the Group's business portfolio and economic conditions.

The Group monitors its capital structure by reviewing its net debt-to-equity ratios and cash flow requirements, taking into account of its future financial obligations and commitments. For this purpose, the Group defines net debt as total loans less bank deposits and cash. Shareholders' equity comprises issued share capital and reserves attributable to equity shareholders of the Company. Total equity comprises shareholders' equity and non-controlling interests.

The net debt-to-equity ratios as at 31 December 2022 and 2021 were as follows:

	2022 HK$ Million	2021 HK$ Million
Bank loans and other borrowings (Note 20)	19,964	36,745
Less: Bank deposits and cash (Note 17)	(14,648)	(23,559)
Net debt	5,316	13,186
Shareholders' equity	151,585	162,020
Total equity	155,707	166,377
Net debt-to-shareholders' equity ratio	3.5%	8.1%
Net debt-to-total equity ratio	3.4%	7.9%

Neither the Company nor any of its subsidiaries are subject to externally imposed capital requirements.

The above amendments do not have significant impact on the Group's results and financial position or any substantial changes in the Group's accounting policies. In addition, the Group has not adopted any new standard or interpretation that is not yet effective for the current accounting period.

The "principal accounting policies" set out on pages 151 to 172 summaries the accounting policies of the Group after the adoption of these policies to the extent that they are relevant to the Group.

NOTES TO THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

PRINCIPAL ACCOUNTING POLICIES

a. STATEMENT OF COMPLIANCE

These financial statements have been prepared in accordance with all applicable Hong Kong Financial Reporting Standards (“HKFRSs”), which collective term includes all applicable individual HKFRSs, Hong Kong Accounting Standards (“HKASs”) and Interpretations issued by the Hong Kong Institute of Certified Public Accountants (“HKICPA”), accounting principles generally accepted in Hong Kong and the requirements of the Companies Ordinance. These financial statements also comply with the applicable disclosure provisions of the Rules Governing the Listing of Securities on The Stock Exchange of Hong Kong Limited (“Listing Rules”). Significant accounting policies adopted by the Group are detailed below.

The HKICPA has issued certain new and revised HKFRSs that are first effective or available for early adoption for the current accounting period of the Group and the Company. Note 28 to the financial statements provides information on any changes in accounting policies resulting from initial application of these developments to the extent that they are relevant to the Group for the current and prior accounting periods reflected in these financial statements.

b. BASIS OF PREPARATION OF THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

The consolidated financial statements for the year ended 31 December 2022 comprise the Company and its subsidiaries (together referred to as the “Group”) and the Group’s interest in associates and joint ventures.

The measurement basis used in the preparation of the financial statements is the historical cost basis except where stated otherwise in the accounting policies set out below.

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with HKFRSs requires management to make judgements, estimates and assumptions that affect the application of policies and reported amounts of assets, liabilities, income and expenses. The estimates and associated assumptions are based on historical experience and various other factors that are believed to be reasonable under the circumstances, the results of which form the basis of making the judgements about carrying values of assets and liabilities that are not readily apparent from other sources. Actual results may differ from these estimates.

The estimates and underlying assumptions are reviewed on an ongoing basis. Revisions to accounting estimates are recognised in the period in which the estimate is revised if the revision affects only that period, or in the period of the revision and future periods if the revision affects both current and future periods.

Judgements made by management in the application of HKFRSs that have significant effect on the financial statements and major sources of estimation uncertainty are discussed in note (w).

PRINCIPAL ACCOUNTING POLICIES

c. BASIS OF CONSOLIDATION

i. Subsidiaries and non-controlling interests

Subsidiaries are entities controlled by the Group. The Group controls an entity when it is exposed, or has rights, to variable returns from its involvement with the entity and has the ability to affect those returns through its power over the entity. When assessing whether the Group has power, only substantive rights (held by the Group and other parties) are considered.

An investment in a subsidiary is consolidated into the consolidated financial statements from the date that control commences until the date that control ceases. Intra-group balances and transactions and cash flows, and any unrealised profits arising from intra-group transactions, are eliminated in full in preparing the consolidated financial statements. Unrealised losses resulting from intra-group transactions are eliminated in the same way as unrealised gains, but only to the extent that there is no evidence of impairment.

Non-controlling interests represent the equity in a subsidiary not attributable directly or indirectly to the Company, and in respect of which the Group has not agreed any additional terms with the holders of those interests which would result in the Group as a whole having a contractual obligation in respect of those interests that meets the definition of a financial liability. For each business combination, the Group can elect to measure any non-controlling interests either at fair value or at the non-controlling interest's proportionate share of the subsidiary's net identifiable assets.

Non-controlling interests are presented in the consolidated statement of financial position within equity, separately from equity attributable to the equity shareholders of the Company. Non-controlling interests in the results of the Group are presented on the face of the consolidated income statement and the consolidated statement of comprehensive income as an allocation of the total profit or loss and total comprehensive income for the year between non-controlling interests and the equity shareholders of the Company. Loans from holders of non-controlling interests and other contractual obligations towards these holders are presented as financial liabilities in the consolidated statement of financial position in accordance with note (f) depending on the nature of the liability.

Changes in the Group's interests in a subsidiary that do not result in a loss of control are accounted for as equity transactions, whereby adjustments are made to the amounts of controlling and non-controlling interests within consolidated equity to reflect the change in relative interests, but no adjustments are made to goodwill and no gain or loss is recognised.

When the Group loses control of a subsidiary, it is accounted for as a disposal of the entire interest in that subsidiary, with a resulting gain or loss being recognised in profit or loss. Any interest retained in that former subsidiary at the date when control is lost is recognised at fair value and this amount is regarded as the fair value on initial recognition of a financial asset (see note (f)) or, when appropriate, the cost on initial recognition of an investment in an associate or joint venture (see note (c)(iii)).

In the Company's statement of financial position, an investment in a subsidiary is stated at cost less impairment losses (see note (k)(ii)).

ii. Associates and joint ventures

An associate is an entity in which the Group or Company has significant influence, but not control or joint control, over its management, including participation in the financial and operating policy decisions.

A joint venture is an arrangement whereby the Group or Company and other parties contractually agree to share control of the arrangement and have rights to the net assets of the arrangement.

An investment in an associate or a joint venture is accounted for in the consolidated financial statements under the equity method, unless it is classified as held for sale (or included in a disposal group that is classified as held for sale). Under the equity method, the investment is initially recorded at cost, adjusted for any excess of the Group's share of the acquisition-date fair values of the investee's identifiable net assets over the cost of the investment (if any) (see note (c)(iii)). Thereafter, the investment is adjusted for the post acquisition change in the Group's share of the investee's net assets and any impairment loss relating to the investment (see note (k)(ii)). Any acquisition-date excess over cost, the Group's share of the post-acquisition, post-tax results of the investees and any impairment losses for the year are recognised in the consolidated income statement, whereas the Group's share of the post-acquisition post-tax items of the investees' other comprehensive income is recognised in the consolidated statement of comprehensive income. Adjustments are made on consolidation to the financial information of associates and joint ventures where necessary to ensure consistency with the accounting policies adopted by the Group.

When the Group's share of losses exceeds its interest in an associate or a joint venture, the Group's interest is reduced to nil and recognition of further losses is discontinued except to the extent that the Group has incurred legal or constructive obligations or made payments on behalf of the investee. For this purpose, the Group's interest in the associate or joint venture is the carrying amount of the investment under the equity method together with the Group's long-term interests that, in substance, form part of the Group's net investment in the associate or joint venture.

Unrealised profits and losses resulting from transactions between the Group and its associates and joint ventures are eliminated to the extent of the Group's interest in the investee, except where unrealised losses provide evidence of an impairment of the asset transferred, in which case they are recognised immediately in the consolidated income statement.

If an investment in an associate becomes an investment in a joint venture or vice versa, the retained interest is not remeasured. Instead, the investment continues to be accounted for under the equity method.

In all other cases, when the Group ceases to have significant influence over an associate or joint control over a joint venture, it is accounted for as a disposal of the entire interest in that investee, with a resulting gain or loss being recognised in profit or loss. Any interest retained in that former investee at the date when significant influence or joint control is lost is recognised at fair value and this amount is regarded as the fair value on initial recognition of a financial asset (see note (f)).

In the individual Company's statement of financial position, investments in associates and joint ventures are stated at cost less impairment losses (see note (k)(ii)).

PRINCIPAL ACCOUNTING POLICIES

iii. Goodwill

Goodwill represents the excess of

- (a) the aggregate of the fair value of the consideration transferred, the amount of any non-controlling interest in the acquiree and the fair value of the Group's previously held equity interest in the acquiree; over
- (b) the net fair value of the acquiree's identifiable assets and liabilities measured as at the acquisition date.

When (b) is greater than (a), then this excess is recognised immediately in profit or loss as a gain on a bargain purchase.

Goodwill is stated at cost less accumulated impairment losses. Goodwill arising on a business combination is allocated to each cash-generating unit, or groups of cash generating units, that is expected to benefit from the synergies of the combination and is tested annually for impairment (see note (k)(ii)).

On disposal of a cash generating unit during the year, any attributable amount of purchased goodwill is included in the calculation of the profit or loss on disposal.

d. INVESTMENT PROPERTIES AND PROPERTY, PLANT AND EQUIPMENT

i. Investment properties

Investment properties are land and/or buildings which are owned or held under a leasehold interest (see note (i)(iii)) to earn rental income and/or for capital appreciation. These include land held for a currently undetermined future use and property that is being constructed or developed for future use as investment properties.

Investment properties are stated in the consolidated statement of financial position at fair value, unless they are still in the course of construction or development at the end of the reporting period and their fair value cannot be reliably measured at that time. Investment properties under development are stated at cost less impairment losses (see note (k)(ii)) if the fair value cannot be measured reliably. Any gain or loss arising from a change in fair value or from the retirement or disposal of an investment property is recognised in the consolidated income statement. Rental income from investment properties is accounted for as described in note (p)(i).

If the property was previously held for own use, then it is accounted for as property, plant and equipment up to the date of the change in use. Any difference at the date of the change in use between the carrying amount of the property and its fair value is recognised as a revaluation of property, plant and equipment in accordance with note (d)(iii) below, even if the property was previously measured at cost. Any existing or arising revaluation surplus previously recognised in other comprehensive income is not transferred to consolidated income statement at the date of transfer or on subsequent disposal of the investment property. However, on subsequent disposal, any existing revaluation surplus that was recognised when revaluation model was applied to the property may be transferred to revenue reserves.

ii. Hotel properties

Hotel properties are stated at cost less accumulated depreciation and impairment losses (see note (k)(ii)).

iii. Other property, plant and equipment held for own use

Other property, plant and equipment held for own use is stated at cost less accumulated depreciation and impairment losses (see note (k)(ii)) or fair value.

Changes arising on the revaluation of properties held for own use under fair value model are generally dealt with in consolidated statement of other comprehensive income and are accumulated separately in equity in the property revaluation reserves. The only exceptions are as follows:

- when a deficit arises on revaluation, it will be charged to consolidated income statement to the extent that it exceeds the amount held in the reserve in respect of that same asset immediately prior to the revaluation; and
- when a surplus arises on revaluation, it will be credited to consolidated income statement to the extent that a deficit on revaluation in respect of that same asset had previously been charged to consolidated income statement.

Items may be produced while bringing an item of property, plant and equipment to the location and condition necessary for it to be capable of operating in the manner intended by management. The proceeds from selling any such items and the related costs are recognised in profit or loss.

- iv. Gains or losses arising from the retirement or disposal of an item of property, plant and equipment are determined as the difference between the net disposal proceeds and the carrying amount of the asset and are recognised in the consolidated income statement on the date of retirement or disposal. Any related revaluation surplus is transferred from the revaluation reserve to retained profits and is not reclassified to profit or loss.

e. DEPRECIATION OF PROPERTY, PLANT AND EQUIPMENT

Depreciation is calculated to write-off the cost of items of property, plant and equipment, less their estimated residual value, if any, using a straight line method over their estimated useful lives as follows:

i. Investment properties

No depreciation is provided on investment properties.

ii. Hotel properties

Depreciation is provided on the cost of the leasehold land of hotel properties over the unexpired period of the lease. Costs of buildings thereon are depreciated on a straight line basis over their estimated useful lives of not more than 40 years.

iii. Other property, plant and equipment held for own use

Depreciation is provided on the cost of the leasehold land of all other properties held for own use over the unexpired period of the lease. Costs of the buildings thereon are depreciated on a straight line basis over their unexpired period of leases or estimated useful live whichever is shorter.

Depreciation is provided on a straight line basis over their estimated useful lives of these assets of 3 to 25 years.

Where parts of an item of property, plant and equipment have different useful lives, the cost or valuation of the item is allocated on a reasonable basis between the parts and each part is depreciated separately. Both the useful life of an asset and its residual value, if any, are reviewed annually.

PRINCIPAL ACCOUNTING POLICIES

f. FINANCIAL INSTRUMENTS

Trade receivables and debt securities issued are initially recognised when they are originated. All other financial assets and financial liabilities are recognised in the consolidated statement of financial position when a group entity becomes a party to the contractual provisions of the instrument. Financial assets and financial liabilities are initially measured at fair value.

A financial asset (unless it is a trade receivable without a significant financing component) or financial liability is initially measured at fair value plus, for an item not at fair value through profit or loss ("FVTPL"), transaction costs that are directly attributable to its acquisition or issue. A trade receivable without a significant financing component is initially measured at the transaction price.

i. Classification and measurement of financial assets

On initial recognition, a financial asset is classified as measured at: amortised cost; fair value through other comprehensive income (FVOCI) — debt investment; FVOCI — equity investment; or fair value through profit or loss (FVTPL).

Financial assets are not reclassified subsequent to their initial recognition, except if and in the period the Group changes its business model for managing financial assets.

A financial asset is measured at amortised cost if it meets both of the following conditions and is not designated as at FVTPL:

- the asset is held within a business model whose objective is to hold assets to collect contractual cash flows; and
- the contractual terms of the financial asset give rise on specified dates to cash flows that are solely payments of principal and interest on the principal amount outstanding.

On initial recognition of an equity investment that is not held for trading, the Group may irrevocably elect to present subsequent changes in the investment's fair value in other comprehensive income ("OCI"). This election is made on an investment-by-investment basis.

All financial assets not classified and measured at amortised cost or FVOCI as described above are measured at FVTPL. On initial recognition, the Group may irrevocably designate a financial asset that otherwise meets the requirements to be measured at amortised cost or at FVOCI as at FVTPL if doing so eliminates or significantly reduces an accounting mismatch that would otherwise arise.

Investments in debt and equity securities

The Group's and the Company's policies for investments in debt and equity securities, other than investments in subsidiaries, associates and joint ventures, are as follows:

The 'other long term investments' caption in the consolidated statement of financial position includes:

- equity investment securities mandatorily measured at FVTPL or designated as at FVTPL; these are at fair value with changes recognised immediately in profit or loss; and
- equity investment securities designated as at FVOCI.

The Group elects to present in OCI changes in the fair value of investments in equity instruments that are not held for trading. The election is made on an instrument-by-instrument basis on initial recognition and is irrevocable.

Gains and losses on such equity instruments are never reclassified to profit or loss and no impairment is recognised in profit or loss. Dividends are recognised in profit or loss unless they clearly represent a recovery of part of the cost of the investment, in which case they are recognised in OCI. Cumulative gains and losses recognised in OCI are transferred to retained earnings on disposal of an investment.

Investments in equity securities (other than investments in subsidiaries, associates and joint ventures) are initially stated at fair value, which is their transaction price unless it is determined that the fair value at initial recognition differs from the transaction price and that fair value is evidenced by a quoted price in an active market for an identical asset or liability or based on a valuation technique that uses only data from observable markets.

Financial assets: Business model assessment

The Group makes an assessment of the objective of the business model in which a financial asset is held at a portfolio level because this best reflects the way the business is managed and information is provided to management. The information considered includes:

- the stated policies and objectives for the portfolio and the operation of those policies in practice. These include whether management's strategy focuses on earning contractual interest income, maintaining a particular interest rate profile, matching the duration of the financial assets to the duration of any related liabilities or expected cash outflows or realising cash flows through the sale of the assets;
- how the performance of the portfolio is evaluated and reported to the Group's management;
- the risks that affect the performance of the business model (and the financial assets held within that business model) and how those risks are managed;
- how managers of the business are compensated — e.g. whether compensation is based on the fair value of the assets managed or the contractual cash flows collected; and
- the frequency, volume and timing of sales of financial assets in prior periods, the reasons for such sales and expectations about future sales activity.

Transfers of financial assets to third parties in transactions that do not qualify for derecognition are not considered sales for this purpose, consistent with the Group's continuing recognition of the assets.

Financial assets that are held for trading or are managed and whose performance is evaluated on a fair value basis are measured at FVTPL.

PRINCIPAL ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Financial assets: Assessment whether contractual cash flows are solely payments of principal and interest

For the purposes of this assessment, 'principal' is defined as the fair value of the financial asset on initial recognition. 'Interest' is defined as consideration for the time value of money and for the credit risk associated with the principal amount outstanding during a particular period of time and for other basic lending risks and costs (e.g. liquidity risk and administrative costs), as well as a profit margin.

In assessing whether the contractual cash flows are solely payments of principal and interest, the Group considers the contractual terms of the instrument. This includes assessing whether the financial asset contains a contractual term that could change the timing or amount of contractual cash flows such that it would not meet this condition. In making this assessment, the Group considers:

- contingent events that would change the amount or timing of cash flows;
- terms that may adjust the contractual coupon rate, including variable rate features;
- prepayment and extension features; and
- terms that limit the Group's claim to cash flows from specified assets (e.g. non-recourse features).

A prepayment feature is consistent with the solely payments of principal and interest criterion if the prepayment amount substantially represents unpaid amounts of principal and interest on the principal amount outstanding, which may include reasonable additional compensation for early termination of the contract. Additionally, for a financial asset acquired at a significant discount or premium to its contractual par amount, a feature that permits or requires prepayment at an amount that substantially represents the contractual par amount plus accrued (but unpaid) contractual interest (which may also include reasonable additional compensation for early termination) is treated as consistent with this criterion if the fair value of the prepayment feature is insignificant at initial recognition.

Financial assets: Subsequent measurement and gains and losses

Financial assets at FVTPL	These assets are subsequently measured at fair value. Net gains and losses, including any interest or dividend income, are recognised in profit or loss.
Financial assets at amortised cost	These assets are subsequently measured at amortised cost using the effective interest method. The amortised cost is reduced by impairment losses. Interest income, foreign exchange gains and losses and impairment are recognised in profit or loss. Any gain or loss on derecognition is recognised in profit or loss.
Equity investments at FVOCI	These assets are subsequently measured at fair value. Dividends are recognised as income in profit or loss unless the dividend clearly represents a recovery of part of the cost of the investment. Other net gains and losses are recognised in OCI and are never reclassified to profit or loss.

ii. Derecognition of financial assets

The Group derecognises a financial asset when the contractual rights to the cash flows from the financial asset expire, or it transfers the rights to receive the contractual cash flows in a transaction in which substantially all of the risks and rewards of ownership of the financial asset are transferred or in which the Group neither transfers nor retains substantially all of the risks and rewards of ownership and it does not retain control of the financial asset.

The Group enters into transactions whereby it transfers assets recognised on its consolidated statement of financial position, but retains either all or substantially all of the risks and rewards of the transferred assets. In such cases, the transferred assets are not derecognised.

In the case of equity investment, cumulative gains and losses recognised in OCI are never reclassified to the consolidated income statement but transferred to revenue reserves on disposal of an investment.

iii. Classification and measurement of financial liabilities

Financial liabilities are classified as measured at amortised cost or FVTPL. A financial liability is classified as at FVTPL if it is classified as held-for-trading, it is a derivative or it is designated as such on initial recognition. Financial liabilities at FVTPL are measured at fair value and net gains and losses, including any interest expense, are recognised in profit or loss. Other financial liabilities are subsequently measured at amortised cost using the effective interest method. Interest expense and foreign exchange gains and losses are recognised in profit or loss. Any gain or loss on derecognition is also recognised in profit or loss.

iv. Derecognition of financial liabilities

The Group derecognises a financial liability when its contractual obligations are discharged or cancelled, or expire.

The Group also derecognises a financial liability when its terms are modified and the cash flows of the modified liability are substantially different. In this case, a new financial liability based on the modified terms is recognised at fair value. The difference between the carrying amount of the financial liability extinguished and the consideration paid (including any non-cash assets transferred or liabilities assumed) with modified terms is recognised in profit or loss.

v. Offsetting

Financial assets and financial liabilities are offset and the net amount presented in the consolidated statement of financial position when, and only when, the Group currently has a legally enforceable right to set off the amounts and it intends either to settle them on a net basis or to realise the asset and settle the liability simultaneously.

Income and expenses are presented on a net basis only when permitted under HKFRS, or for gains and losses arising from a group of similar transactions such as in the Group's trading.

g. DERIVATIVE FINANCIAL INSTRUMENTS

Derivative financial instruments are recognised initially at fair value. At the end of each reporting period, the fair value is remeasured. The gain or loss on remeasurement to fair value is recognised immediately in profit or loss, except where the derivatives qualify for cash flow hedge accounting or hedge the net investment in a foreign operation, in which case recognition of any resultant gain or loss depends on the nature of the item being hedged (note (h)).

At inception of designated hedging relationships, the Group documents the risk management objective and strategy for undertaking the hedge. The Group also documents the economic relationship between the hedged item and the hedging instrument, including whether the changes in cash flows of the hedged item and hedging instrument are expected to offset each other.

PRINCIPAL ACCOUNTING POLICIES

h. HEDGING

i. Fair value hedge

A fair value hedge is a hedge of the exposure to changes in fair value of a recognised asset or liability or an unrecognised firm commitment, or an identified portion of such an asset, liability or firm commitment, that is attributable to a particular risk and could affect the consolidated income statement. The gain or loss from remeasuring the hedging instrument at fair value together with the gain or loss on the hedged item attributable to the hedged risk are recorded in the consolidated income statement.

ii. Cash flow hedge

Where a derivative financial instrument is designated as a hedge of the variability in cash flows of a recognised asset or liability or a highly probable forecast transaction or the foreign currency risk of a committed future transaction, the effective portion of any gain or loss on remeasurement of the derivative financial instrument to fair value is recognised directly in other comprehensive income and accumulated separately in equity. The ineffective portion of any gain or loss is recognised immediately in the profit or loss.

If a hedge of a forecast transaction subsequently results in the recognition of a non-financial asset or non-financial liability, the associated gain or loss is reclassified from equity to be included in the initial cost or other carrying amount of the non-financial asset or liability.

If a hedge of a forecast transaction subsequently results in the recognition of a financial asset or a financial liability, the associated gain or loss is reclassified from equity to the consolidated income statement in the same period or periods during which the asset acquired or liability assumed affects the consolidated income statement (such as when interest income or expense is recognised).

For cash flow hedges, other than those covered by the preceding two policy statements, the associated gain or loss is reclassified from equity to the consolidated income statement in the same period or periods during which the hedged forecast transaction affects profit or loss.

When a hedging instrument expires or is sold, terminated or exercised, or the Group revokes designation of the hedge relationship but the hedged forecast transaction is still expected to occur, the cumulative gain or loss at that point remains in equity until the transaction occurs and it is recognised in accordance with the above policy. If the hedged transaction is no longer expected to take place, the cumulative unrealised gain or loss is reclassified from equity to the consolidated income statement immediately.

iii. Hedge of net investment in a foreign operation

The portion of the gain or loss on remeasurement to fair value of an instrument used to hedge a net investment in a foreign operation that is determined to be an effective hedge is recognised directly in other comprehensive income and accumulated separately in equity in the exchange reserves until the disposal of the foreign operation, at which time the cumulative gain or loss is reclassified from equity to the consolidated income statement. The ineffective portion is recognised immediately in profit or loss. The amount recognised in other comprehensive income is reclassified to profit or loss as a reclassification adjustment on disposal of the foreign operation.

i. LEASED ASSETS

At inception of a contract, the Group assesses whether the contract is, or contains, a lease. A contract is, or contains, a lease if the contract conveys the right to control the use of an identified asset for a period of time in exchange for consideration. Control is conveyed where the customer has both the right to direct the use of the identified asset and to obtain substantially all of the economic benefits from that use.

i. As a lessee

Where the contract contains lease component(s) and non-lease component(s), the Group has elected not to separate non-lease components and accounts for each lease component and any associated non-lease components as a single lease component for all leases.

At the lease commencement date, the Group recognises a right-of-use asset and a lease liability, except for short-term leases that have a lease term of 12 months or less and leases of low-value assets. When the Group enters into a lease in respect of a low-value asset, the Group decides whether to capitalise the lease on a lease-by-lease basis. The lease payments associated with those leases which are not capitalised are recognised as an expense on a systematic basis over the lease term.

Where the lease is capitalised, the lease liability is initially recognised at the present value of the lease payments payable over the lease term, discounted using the interest rate implicit in the lease or, if that rate cannot be readily determined, using a relevant incremental borrowing rate. After initial recognition, the lease liability is measured at amortised cost and interest expense is calculated using the effective interest method. Variable lease payments that do not depend on an index or rate which are presented as variable rental income in the consolidated financial statements are not included in the measurement of the lease liability and hence are charged to profit or loss in the accounting period in which they are incurred.

The right-of-use asset recognised when a lease is capitalised is initially measured at cost, which comprises the initial amount of the lease liability plus any lease payments made at or before the commencement date, and any initial direct costs incurred. Where applicable, the cost of the right-of-use assets also includes an estimate of costs to dismantle and remove the underlying asset or to restore the underlying asset or the site on which it is located, discounted to their present value, less any lease incentives received. The right-of-use asset is subsequently stated at cost less accumulated depreciation (see note (e)) for each type of underlying asset) and impairment losses (see note (k)(ii)), except for the following types of right-of-use asset:

- right-of-use assets that meet the definition of investment properties are carried at fair value in accordance with note (d)(i); and
- right-of-use assets related to interests in leasehold land where the interest in the land is held as inventory are carried at the lower of cost and net realisable value in accordance with note (l).

The initial fair value of refundable rental deposits is accounted for separately from the right-of-use assets in accordance with the accounting policy applicable to investments in debt securities carried at amortised cost (see note (f)). Any difference between the initial fair value and the nominal value of the deposits is accounted for as additional lease payments made and is included in the cost of right-of-use assets.

PRINCIPAL ACCOUNTING POLICIES

The lease liability is remeasured when there is a change in future lease payments arising from a change in an index or rate, or there is a change in the Group's estimate of the amount expected to be payable under a residual value guarantee, or there is a change arising from the reassessment of whether the Group will be reasonably certain to exercise a purchase, extension or termination option. When the lease liability is remeasured in this way, a corresponding adjustment is made to the carrying amount of the right-of-use asset, or is recorded in profit or loss if the carrying amount of the right-of-use asset has been reduced to zero.

The lease liability is also remeasured when there is a change in the scope of a lease or the consideration for a lease that is not originally provided for in the lease contract ("lease modification") that is not accounted for as a separate lease. In this case the lease liability is remeasured based on the revised lease payments and lease term using a revised discount rate at the effective date of modification.

The Group includes right-of-use assets that do not meet the definition of investment properties and properties for sale in 'property, plant and equipment' in the consolidated statement of financial position.

ii. As a lessor

When the Group acts as a lessor, it determines at lease inception whether each lease is a finance lease or an operating lease. A lease is classified as a finance lease if it transfers substantially all the risks and rewards incidental to the ownership of an underlying assets to the lessee. If this is not the case, the lease is classified as an operating lease.

When a contract contains lease and non-lease components, the Group allocates the consideration in the contract to each component on a relative stand-alone selling price basis. The rental income from operating leases is recognised in accordance with note (p)(i).

j. CONTRACT ASSETS AND LIABILITIES

A contract asset is recognised when the Group recognises revenue (see note (p)) before being unconditionally entitled to the consideration under the payment terms set out in the contract. Contract assets are assessed for expected credit losses and are reclassified to receivables when the right to the consideration has become unconditional.

A contract liability is recognised when the customer pays consideration before the Group recognises the related revenue (see note (p)). A contract liability would also be recognised if the Group has an unconditional right to receive consideration before the Group recognises the related revenue. In such cases, a corresponding receivable would also be recognised.

For a single contract with the customer, either a net contract asset or a net contract liability is presented. For multiple contracts, contract assets and contract liabilities of unrelated contracts are not presented on a net basis.

When the contract includes a significant financing component, the contract balance includes interest accrued under the effective interest method.

k. IMPAIRMENT OF ASSETS

i. Impairment of financial assets

The Group recognises loss allowances for expected credit loss (“ECL”) on financial assets measured at amortised cost.

The Group measures loss allowances at an amount equal to 12-month ECLs unless there has been a significant increase in credit risk of financial instruments since initial recognition, in which the ECLs are measured at an amount equal to lifetime ECLs. For trade receivables (including lease receivables), the Group applies the simplified approach to providing for expected credit losses prescribed by HKFRS 9, Financial Instrument, which requires the use of the lifetime expected loss provision for all trade receivables.

When determining whether the credit risk of a financial asset has increased significantly since initial recognition and when estimating ECL, the Group considers reasonable and supportable information that is relevant and available without undue cost or effort. This includes both quantitative and qualitative information and analysis, based on the Group’s historical experience and informed credit assessment and including forward-looking information.

Lifetime ECLs are the ECLs that result from all possible default events over the expected life of a financial instrument.

12-month ECLs are the portion of ECL that results from default events on a financial instrument that are possible within the 12 months after the reporting date or a shorter period if the expected life of the instrument is less than 12 months.

In all cases, the maximum period considered when estimating ECLs is the maximum contractual period over which the Group is exposed to credit risk.

Measurement of ECLs

ECLs are a probability-weighted estimate of credit losses. Credit losses are measured as the present value of all cash shortfalls (i.e. the difference between the cash flows due to the entity in accordance with the contract and the cash flows that the Group expects to receive).

Credit-impaired financial assets

At each reporting date, the Group assesses on a forward looking basis whether financial assets carried at amortised cost are credit-impaired. A financial asset is ‘credit-impaired’ when one or more events that have a detrimental impact on the estimated future cash flows of the financial asset have occurred.

Evidence that a financial asset is credit-impaired includes the following observable data:

- significant financial difficulty of the borrower or issuer;
- a breach of contract such as a default or past due event;
- the restructuring of a loan or advance by the Group on terms that the Group would not consider otherwise;
- it is becoming probable that the borrower will enter bankruptcy or other financial reorganisation; or the disappearance of an active market for a security because of financial difficulties of the issuers.

PRINCIPAL ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Presentation of allowance for ECL in the consolidated statement of financial position

Loss allowances for financial assets measured at amortised cost are deducted from the gross carrying amount of the assets.

Write-off

The gross carrying amount of a financial asset is written off (either partially or in full) to the extent that there is no realistic prospect of recovery. This is generally the case when the Group determines that the debtor does not have assets or sources of income that could generate sufficient cash flows to repay the amounts subject to the write-off. However, financial assets that are written off could still be subject to enforcement activities in order to comply with the Group's procedures for recovery of amounts due.

ii. Impairment of non-financial assets (including right-of-use assets)

The carrying amounts of non-financial assets, other than properties carried at revalued amounts (including investments in subsidiaries in the Company's statement of financial position, investments in associates and joint ventures accounted for under the equity method (see note (c)(ii)) and deferred tax assets, are reviewed at the end of each reporting period to determine whether there is any indication of impairment. If any such indication exists, the recoverable amount is estimated. In addition, for goodwill, intangible assets that are not yet available for use and intangible assets that have indefinite useful lives, the recoverable amount is estimated annually whether or not there is any indication of impairment.

– Calculation of recoverable amount

The recoverable amount of an asset is the greater of its fair value less costs of disposal and value in use. In assessing value in use, the estimated future cash flows are discounted to their present value using a pre-tax discount rate that reflects current market assessments of the time value of money and the risks specific to the asset. Where an asset does not generate cash inflows largely independent of those from other assets, the recoverable amount is determined for the smallest group of assets that generates cash inflows independently (i.e. a cash-generating unit). A portion of the carrying amount of a corporate asset (for example, head office building) is allocated to an individual cash-generating unit if the allocation can be done on a reasonable and consistent basis, or to the smallest group of cash-generating units if otherwise.

– Recognition of impairment losses

An impairment loss is recognised in profit or loss if the carrying amount of an asset, or the cash-generating unit to which it belongs, exceeds the recoverable amount. Impairment losses recognised in respect of cash-generating units are allocated first to reduce the carrying amount of any goodwill allocated to the cash-generating unit (or group of units) and then, to reduce the carrying amount of the other assets in the unit (or group of units) on a pro rata basis, except that the carrying value of an asset will not be reduced below its individual fair value less costs of disposal (if measurable), or value in use (if determinable).

– Reversals of impairment losses

In respect of assets other than goodwill, an impairment loss is reversed if there has been a favourable change in the estimates used to determine the recoverable amount. An impairment loss in respect of goodwill is not reversed (including those provided during the interim financial reporting).

A reversal of an impairment loss is limited to the asset's carrying amount that would have been determined had no impairment loss been recognised in prior years. Reversals of impairment losses are credited to profit or loss in the year in which the reversals are recognised.

– Interim financial reporting and impairment

Under the Listing Rules, the Group is required to prepare an interim financial report in compliance with HKAS 34, Interim financial reporting, in respect of the first six months of the financial year. At the end of the interim period, the Group applies the same impairment testing, recognition, and reversal criteria as it would at the end of the financial year.

Impairment losses recognised in an interim period in respect of goodwill, are not reversed in a subsequent period. This is the case even if no loss, or a smaller loss, would have been recognised had the impairment been assessed only at the end of the financial year to which the interim period relates.

I. PROPERTIES FOR SALE

i. Completed properties for sale

Completed properties for sale are stated at the lower of cost and net realisable value. Cost is determined by apportionment of the total development costs, including borrowing costs capitalised (see note (q)), attributable to unsold units. Net realisable value is estimated by the management, based on prevailing market conditions which represents the estimated selling price less costs to be incurred in selling the property. Cost of completed properties for sale comprises all costs of purchase, costs of conversion and costs incurred in bringing the inventories to their present location and condition.

The amount of any write down of or provision for properties held for sale is recognised as an expense in the period the write down or loss occurs. The amount of any reversal of any write down or provision arising from an increase in net realisable value is recognised in the consolidated income statement in the period in which the reversal occurs.

ii. Properties under development for sale

Properties under development for sale are classified as current assets and stated at the lower of cost and net realisable value. Cost includes identified costs including the acquisition cost of land, aggregate cost of development, borrowing costs capitalised (see note (q)), material and supplies, wages, other direct expenses and an appropriate proportion of overheads. Net realisable value is estimated by management, taking into account the expected price that can ultimately be achieved, based on prevailing market conditions and the anticipated costs of completion and costs to be incurred in selling the property.

The amount of any write down of or provision for properties under development for sale is recognised as an expense in the period the write down or loss occurs. The amount of any reversal of any write down or provision arising from an increase in net realisable value is recognised in the consolidated income statement in the period in which the reversal occurs.

m. INVENTORIES

Inventories are stated at the lower of cost and net realisable value. Cost comprises all costs of purchase, cost of conversion and other costs incurred in bringing the inventories to their present location and condition. Net realisable value is estimated by the management, based on the expected selling price in the ordinary course of business less the anticipated costs of completion and the estimated costs necessary to make the sale.

n. CASH AND CASH EQUIVALENTS

Cash and cash equivalents comprise cash at bank and on hand, demand deposits with banks and other financial institutions and short-term, highly liquid investments that are readily convertible into known amounts of cash and which are subject to an insignificant risk of changes in value, having been within three months of maturity at acquisition. Bank overdrafts that are repayable on demand and form an integral part of the Group's cash management are also included as a component of cash and cash equivalents for the purpose of the consolidated statement of cash flows.

PRINCIPAL ACCOUNTING POLICIES

o. FOREIGN CURRENCIES

Foreign currency transactions during the year are translated into Hong Kong dollars at the exchange rates ruling at the transaction dates. Monetary foreign currency balances and the statements of financial position of foreign operations are translated into Hong Kong dollars at the exchange rates ruling at the end of the reporting period. Non-monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies that are stated at fair value are translated using the foreign exchange rates ruling at the dates the fair value was measured. The transaction date is the date on which the Group initially recognises such non-monetary assets or liabilities.

The results of foreign operations are translated into Hong Kong dollars at the monthly weighted average exchange rates for the year. Statement of financial position items, including goodwill arising on consolidation of foreign operations acquired on or after 1 January 2005, are translated into Hong Kong dollars at the closing foreign exchange rates at the end of the reporting period. Differences arising from the translation of the financial statements of foreign operations are recognised in other comprehensive income and accumulated separately in equity in the exchange reserve and those arising from the financing of properties under development by foreign currency borrowings are capitalised as part of the development costs. All other exchange differences are dealt with in the consolidated income statement.

On disposal of a foreign operation, the cumulative amount of the exchange differences recognised in equity which relate to that foreign operation is reclassified from equity to the consolidated income statement and is included in the calculation of the profit or loss on disposal.

p. RECOGNITION OF REVENUE

Income is classified by the Group as revenue when it arises from the sale of goods, the provision of services or the use by others of the Group's assets under leases in the ordinary course of the Group's business.

Revenue is recognised when control over a product or service is transferred to the customer, or the lessee has the right to use the asset, at the amount of promised consideration to which the Group is expected to be entitled, excluding those amounts collected on behalf of third parties. Revenue excludes value added tax or other sales taxes and is after deduction of any trade discounts.

Where the contract contains a financing component which provides a significant financing benefit to the customer for more than 12 months, revenue is measured at the present value of the amount receivable, discounted using the discount rate that would be reflected in a separate financing transaction with the customer, and interest income is accrued separately under the effective interest method. Where the contract contains a financing component which provides a significant financing benefit to the Group, revenue recognised under that contract includes the interest expense accreted on the contract liability under the effective interest method. The Group takes advantage of the practical expedient in paragraph 63 of HKFRS 15 and does not adjust the consideration for any effects of a significant financing component if the period of financing is 12 months or less.

- i. Rental income under operating leases is recognised in equal instalments over the accounting periods covered by the lease term, except where an alternative basis is more representative of the pattern of benefits to be derived from the use of the leased asset. Lease incentives granted are recognised as an integral part of the aggregate net lease payments receivable. Variable lease payments (i.e. variable rental income) that do not depend on an index or a rate are recognised in the accounting period in which they are earned.

- ii. Revenue arising from the sale of properties developed for sale in the ordinary course of business is recognised when legal assignment is completed, or when the property is accepted by customer, which is the point in time when the customer has the ability to direct the use of the property and obtain substantially all of the remaining benefits of the property. Deposits and instalments received on properties sold prior to the date of revenue recognition are included in the statement of financial position under contract liabilities as “Deposits from sale of properties”.

When residential properties are marketed by the Group while the property is still under construction, the Group may offer a discount compared to the listed sales price, provided the customer agrees to pay the balance of the consideration early. In such cases, if the advance payments are regarded as providing a significant financing benefit to the Group, interest expense arising from the adjustment of time value of money will be accrued by the Group during the period between the payment date and either the completion date of legal assignment or the date when the property is accepted by the customer. This accrual increases the balance of “Deposits from sale of properties” during the period of construction, and therefore increases the amount of revenue recognised when control of the completed property is transferred to the customer. The interest is expensed as accrued unless it is eligible to be capitalised under HKAS 23, Borrowing costs (see note (q)).

- iii. Dividend income from unlisted investments is recognised when the shareholder’s right to receive payment is established.

Dividend income from listed investments is recognised when the share price of the investment goes ex-dividend.

- iv. Interest income is recognised as it accrues using the effective interest method.
- v. Income received in advance attributable to long term service contracts is deferred and recognised over the contract period on a straight line basis.

q. BORROWING COSTS

Borrowing costs that are directly attributable to the acquisition, construction or production of an asset which necessarily takes a substantial period of time to get ready for its intended use or sale are capitalised as part of the cost of that asset. Other borrowing costs are expensed in the period in which they incurred.

The capitalisation of borrowing costs as part of the cost of a qualifying asset commences when expenditure for the asset is being incurred, borrowing costs are being incurred and activities that are necessary to prepare the asset for its intended use or sale are in progress. Capitalisation of borrowing costs is suspended or ceases when substantially all the activities necessary to prepare the qualifying asset for its intended use or sale are interrupted or complete.

r. INCOME TAX

- i. Income tax for the year comprises current tax and movements in deferred tax assets and liabilities. Current tax and movements in deferred tax assets and liabilities are recognised in the consolidated income statement except to the extent that they relate to items recognised in other comprehensive income or directly in equity, in which case the relevant amounts of tax are recognised in other comprehensive income or directly in equity, respectively.
- ii. Current tax is the expected tax payable on the taxable income for the year, using tax rates enacted or substantively enacted at the end of the reporting period, and any adjustment to tax payable in respect of previous years.

PRINCIPAL ACCOUNTING POLICIES

- iii. Deferred tax assets and liabilities arise from deductible and taxable temporary differences between the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities for financial reporting purposes and the tax bases respectively. Deferred tax assets also arise from unused tax losses and unused tax credits.

Apart from certain limited exceptions, all deferred tax liabilities and all deferred tax assets, to the extent that it is probable that future taxable profits will be available against which the asset can be utilised, are recognised. Future taxable profits that may be capable to support the recognition of deferred tax assets arising from deductible temporary differences include those that will arise from the reversal of existing taxable temporary differences.

The limited exceptions to recognition of deferred tax assets and liabilities are those temporary differences arising from goodwill not deductible for tax purposes and the initial recognition of assets or liabilities that affect neither accounting nor taxable profit (provided that they are not part of a business combination).

Where investment properties are carried at their fair value in accordance with the accounting policy set out in note (d) (i), the amount of deferred tax recognised is measured using the tax rates that would apply on sale of those assets at their carrying value at the reporting period unless the property is depreciable and is held within a business model whose objective is to consume substantially all of the economic benefits embodied in the property over time, rather than through sale. In all other cases, the amount of deferred tax recognised is measured based on the expected manner of realisation or settlement of the carrying amount of the assets and liabilities, using tax rates enacted or substantively enacted at the end of the reporting period. Deferred tax assets and liabilities are not discounted.

The carrying amount of a deferred tax asset is reviewed at the end of each of reporting period and is reduced to the extent that it is no longer probable that sufficient taxable profits will be available to allow the related tax benefit to be utilised. Any such reduction is reversed to the extent that it becomes probable that sufficient taxable profits will be available.

Additional income taxes that will probably arise from the distribution of dividends are recognised when the related dividends are likely to be payable in the foreseeable future.

- iv. Current tax balances and deferred tax balances, and movements therein, are presented separately from each other and are not offset. Current tax assets are offset against current tax liabilities and deferred tax assets against deferred tax liabilities if, and only if, the Group has the legally enforceable right to set off current tax assets against current tax liabilities and the following additional conditions are met:
- in the case of current tax assets and liabilities, the Company or the Group intends either to settle on a net basis, or to realise the asset and settle the liability simultaneously; or
 - in the case of deferred tax assets and liabilities, if they relate to income taxes levied by the same taxation authority on either:
 - the same taxable entity; or
 - different taxable entities, which, in each future period in which significant amounts of deferred tax liabilities or assets are expected to be settled or recovered, intend to realise the current tax assets and settle the current tax liabilities on a net basis or realise and settle simultaneously.

s. RELATED PARTIES

- i. A person, or a close member of that person's family, is related to the Group if that person:
 - (a) has control or joint control over the Group;
 - (b) has significant influence over the Group; or
 - (c) is a member of the key management personnel of the Group or the Group's parent.
- ii. An entity is related to the Group if any of the following conditions applies:
 - (a) The entity and the Group are members of the same group (which means that each parent, subsidiary and fellow subsidiary is related to the others).
 - (b) One entity is an associate or joint venture of the other entity (or an associate or a joint venture of a member of a group of which the other entity is a member).
 - (c) Both entities are joint ventures of the same third party.
 - (d) One entity is a joint venture of a third entity and the other entity is an associate of the third entity.
 - (e) The entity is a post-employment benefit plan for the benefit of employees of either the Group or an entity related to the Group.
 - (f) The entity is controlled or jointly controlled by a person identified in (i).
 - (g) A person identified in (i)(a) has significant influence over the entity or is a member of the key management personnel of the entity (or of a parent of the entity).
 - (h) The entity, or any member of a group of which it is a part, provides key management personnel services to the Group or to the Group's parent.

Close members of the family of a person are those family members who may be expected to influence, or be influenced by, that person in their dealings with the entity.

PRINCIPAL ACCOUNTING POLICIES

t. FINANCIAL GUARANTEES ISSUED, PROVISIONS AND CONTINGENT LIABILITIES

i. Financial guarantees issued

Financial guarantees are contracts that require the issuer (i.e. the guarantor) to make specified payments to reimburse the beneficiary of the guarantee (the “holder”) for a loss the holder incurs because a specified debtor fails to make payment when due in accordance with the terms of a debt instrument.

Where the Group issues a financial guarantee, the fair value of the guarantee is initially recognised as deferred income. The fair value of financial guarantees issued at the time of issuance is determined by reference to fees charged in an arm’s length transaction for similar services, when such information is obtainable, or is otherwise estimated by reference to interest rate differentials, by comparing the actual rates charged by lenders when the guarantee is made available with the estimated rates that lenders would have charged, had the guarantees not been available, where reliable estimates of such information can be made. Where consideration is received or receivable for the issuance of the guarantee, the consideration is recognised in accordance with the Group’s policies applicable to that category of asset. Where no such consideration is received or receivable, an immediate expense is recognised in profit or loss on initial recognition of any deferred income.

The amount of the guarantee initially recognised as deferred income is amortised in profit or loss over the term of the guarantee as income from financial guarantees issued. In addition, provisions are recognised in accordance with note (t)(ii) if and when (i) it becomes probable that the holder of the guarantee will call upon the group under the guarantee, and (ii) the amount of that claim on the group is expected to exceed the carrying amount currently in respect of that guarantee, i.e. the amount initially recognised, less accumulated amortisation.

ii. Other provisions and contingent liabilities

Provisions are recognised for other liabilities of uncertain timing or amount when the Group or the Company has a legal or constructive obligation arising as a result of a past event, it is probable that an outflow of economic benefits will be required to settle the obligation and a reliable estimate can be made. Where the time value of money is material, provisions are stated at the present value of the expenditure expected to settle the obligation.

Where it is not probable that an outflow of economic benefits will be required, or the amount cannot be estimated reliably, the obligation is disclosed as a contingent liability, unless the probability of outflow of economic benefits is remote. Possible obligations, whose existence will only be confirmed by the occurrence or non-occurrence of one or more future events are also disclosed as contingent liabilities unless the probability of outflow of economic benefits is remote.

Where some or all of the expenditure required to settle a provision is expected to be reimbursed by another party, a separate asset is recognised for any expected reimbursement that would be virtually certain. The amount recognised for the reimbursement is limited to the carrying amount of the provision.

u. SEGMENT REPORTING

Operating segments, and the amounts of each segment item reported in the financial statements, are identified from the financial information provided regularly to the Group's top management for the purposes of allocating resources to, and assessing the performance of, the Group's various lines of business and geographical locations.

Individually material operating segments are not aggregated for financial reporting purposes unless the segments have similar economic characteristics and are similar in respect of the nature of products and services, the nature of production processes, the type or class of customers, the methods used to distribute the products or provide the services, and the nature of the regulatory environment. Operating segments which are not individually material may be aggregated if they share a majority of these criteria.

v. EMPLOYEE BENEFITS

i. Share based payments

The fair value of share options granted to employees is recognised as an employee cost with a corresponding increase in capital reserves within equity. The fair value is measured at grant date using Binomial Model, taking into account the terms and conditions upon which the options were granted. Where the employees have to meet vesting conditions before becoming unconditionally entitled to the options, the total estimated fair value of the share options is spread over the vesting period, taking into account the probability that the options will vest.

During the vesting period, the number of share options that is expected to vest is reviewed. Any resulting adjustment to the cumulative fair value recognised in prior years is charged/credited to the consolidated income statement for the year of the review, unless the original employee expenses qualify for recognition as an asset, with a corresponding adjustment to the capital reserves. On vesting date, the amount recognised as an expense is adjusted to reflect the actual number of options that vest (with a corresponding adjustment to the capital reserves) except where forfeiture is only due to not achieving vesting conditions that relate to the market price of the Company's shares. The equity amount is recognised in the capital reserves until either the option is exercised (when it is transferred to the other statutory capital reserves) or the option expires (when it is released directly to revenue reserves).

ii. Employee benefits and contributions to defined contribution retirement plans

Short-term employee benefits, including salaries, annual bonuses, paid annual leave, leave passage, contributions to defined contribution retirement plans and the cost of non-monetary benefits are accrued in the year in which the associated services are rendered by employees of the Group. Where payment or settlement is deferred and the effect would be material, these amounts are stated at their present values.

PRINCIPAL ACCOUNTING POLICIES

w. SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING ESTIMATES AND JUDGEMENTS

Note 22 contains information about the assumptions and their risk relating to financial instruments. Other key sources of estimation uncertainty are as follows:

– Valuation of investment properties

Investment properties are included in the consolidated statement of financial position at their market value, unless they are still in the course of construction or development at the end of the reporting period and their fair value cannot be reliably determined at that time. The market value of investment properties is assessed annually by independent qualified valuers, after taking into consideration the net income allowing for reversionary potential, redevelopment potential of the properties or recent market transactions of comparable properties where applicable.

The assumptions adopted in the property valuations are based on the market conditions existing at the end of the reporting period, with reference to current market rental and the appropriate capitalisation rate or current market selling prices.

– Assessment of impairment of non-current assets

Management assesses the recoverable amount of each asset based on its value in use (using relevant rates) or on its net selling price (by reference to market prices), depending upon the anticipated future plans for the asset.

Estimating the value in use of an asset involves estimating the future cash inflows and outflows to be derived from continuing use of the asset and from its ultimate disposal and applying the appropriate discount rate to these future cash flows. Cash flow projections for the remaining useful life of the asset and the most recent financial budgets/forecasts are approved by management.

– Assessment of provision for properties for sale

Management determines the net realisable value of properties for sale by using (i) prevailing market data such as most recent sale transactions and market survey reports available from independent property valuers; and (ii) internal estimates of costs based on quotes by suppliers.

Management's assessment of the net realisable value of properties under development for sale requires the application of a risk-adjusted discount rate to estimate future discounted cash flows to be derived from the properties under development for sale. These estimates require judgement as to the anticipated sale prices by reference to recent sale transactions in nearby locations, rate of new property sales, marketing costs (including price discounts required to stimulate sales) and the expected costs to completion of properties, the legal and regulatory framework and general market conditions. The Group's estimates may be inaccurate and estimates may need to be adjusted in later periods.
